London Reveals Sinking Of Submarine Off Queen Charlottes In July Of 1942

LONDON (CP)—What is believed here to be the first official mention of the sinking of a Japanese submarine off the Queen Charlotte Islands July 9, 1942, was disclosed today in a British white paper which showed Canadian naval and air force units bagged 49 of 996 enemy submarines destroyed by Allied action in world waters during the Second Great War.

The paper credits the sinking of the submarine near the islands off the British Columbia coast to R.C.A.F. aircraft operating with the United States Coast Guard cutter McLane and the United States ship Y.P. 251.

Five sinkings off the Nova Scotia coast were listed and two were located southeast of Newfoundland.

A breakdown of losses by enemy powers shows Germany lost 781 submarines, Italy 85 and Japan 130. Peak sub-hunting years were 1943 and 1944, when losses reached 284 and 297 respectively.

The first German submarine sunk in a purely Canadian action was accounted for by H.M.C.S. Chamblay and H.M.C.S. Moose Jaw in the North Atlantic Sept. 10, 1941. Mosquitos of No. 404 Squadron, R.C.A.F., operating with British and Norwegian fighter-bombers accounted for Canada's last kill May 2, 1945, in the waters of the Kattegat.

Victorians were aware that Japanese submarines were operating almost on their doorstep during 1942 and 1943 and various steps were taken by the navy, army, air force and Civil Defence to offset their plans to destroy shipping and terrorise the public.

The most disturbing act by Japanese submarines was the shelling of Estevan, 150 miles north of Victoria. The calm of a Saturday evening, June 20, 1942, was shattered when two submarines surfaced off the Estevan lighthouse and pumped 30 shells ashore. Only minor damage was done, but the action made the rest of Canada conscious of the part Vancouver Island was playing in the war in the Pacific. It was the first time enemy shells had been dropped in Canada in the last war.

Victorians also recall how desperately the navy tried to conceal the fact that the Victoria-built 10,000-ton freighter, Fort Camosun, had been torpedoed within 100 miles of Victoria and, after being abandoned by her officers and crew, was salvaged and dry-docked at Esquimalt. She had a tremendous hole amidships and the fact that she did not sink was attributed to her sound construction by the Victoria Machinery Dept.

The Canadian corvettes Queneau and Edmundson participated in the salvaging of the Fort Camosun, and tugs were ordered to sea to bring her into port. After repairs had been carried out the ship reloaded her cargo and proceeded to sea.

Officers and crew of the Fort Camosun were well entertained here and much of their lost clothing and equipment was replaced by citizens.

Another close call was the torpedoing of an American oil tanker in the Strait of Juan de Fuca. Her crew was taken to Port Angeles, Wash.

SECRET PATROLS
The Canadian Navy maintained several patrols off of Esquimalt. The fast Fairmile patrol boats just beyond Race Rocks and minesweepers were on duty farther out, while a wide area well out into the Pacific was patrolled by corvettes, which could stay at sea for 11 days.

The R.C.A.F. made extensive flights each day, going 500 miles offshore in their Canos from Patricia Bay, Ucluelet, Tofino and other bases between here and the Alaskan boundary.

All boats traveling between here and the mainland steamed without lights and shore lights were turned off so as not to silhouette the ships.

Hundreds of Victoria boys who served in the forces on the coast now tell of the many false alarms which kept them on their toes during the anxious days after Pearl Harbor.

Objection By Premier

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King this afternoon in the Commons took exception "in the strongest possible terms" to a Financial Post (Toronto) story reporting that his recent return to Canada from Great Britain had been hastened by a United States "ultimatum" that Canada fortify her northern areas. He said the report was "wholly misleading."

Spanish Sub Sinks

MADRID (AP)—A Spanish submarine sank Thursday near Balearic Islands with a loss of 46 men after being struck by a destroyer, the navy announced today.

Baptists Seek Commission On Whole Liquor Question

Establishment of a Royal Commission on the liquor question was sought today by the Baptist churches of British Columbia, which urged that no plebiscite on liquor question be taken and no license granted, and there be no increased facilities permitted for sale or manufacture of alcoholic beverages in B.C. until such a commission had investigated and reported.

A delegation was named by the Baptist church representatives, in convention at First Baptist Church, to present this recommendation to Premier John Hart this afternoon.

The convention resolved to ask the provincial government to appoint a thoroughly judicial and representative Royal Commission

Russia Demands Two-Thirds Vote On Atomic Issue

NEW YORK (AP)—Russia tossed a voting controversy into the lap of the Atomic Energy Commission today when she served notice she would fight for a rule requiring a two-thirds vote for approval of all questions before the commission.

That was one of the first questions scheduled for action as the commission was called into session for its first meeting as a working committee to start laying the groundwork for a permanent atomic control agency.

The issue arose Thursday when the commission's committee on rules and procedure approved a rule providing measures could be adopted by a straight majority of the 12 commission members, among whom is Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canada's representative.

The Russian procedure expert took exception to the ruling and reserved the right for Soviet delegate Andrei A. Gromyko to bring the issue before the commission at today's closed meeting.

NEW SUBCOMMITTEES

The session was scheduled to be confined largely to the adoption of rules of procedure, which in general follow the rules under which the Security Council operates. There also was a possibility the working committee would create one or two subcommittees to take up specific phases of the work of combining the United States and Russian atomic plans into an acceptable compromise formula.

Since the session was confined largely to procedural matters, it was decided to bar the press and public. Associates of United States Representative Bernard M. Baruch said, however, that Mr. Baruch felt future meetings should be open.

M.L.A.'s Expenses Not To Be Taxed

OTTAWA (CP)—Members on all sides of the House applauded sympathetically in the Commons Thursday night when Finance Minister Ilsley, disclosed in his budget a concession for provincial legislators.

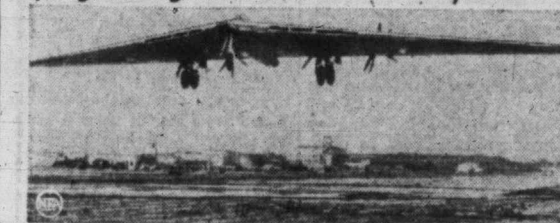

He announced an amendment to the taxation law providing that where an elected member of a provincial legislature is paid an allowance for expenses incidental to the discharge of his duties, the allowance will be deemed not to be taxable income to the extent of not more than a third of the aggregate of his normal sessional indemnity and the expense allowance.

De Nicola May Be Italian President

ROME (AP)—Ansa, Italian news agency, reported today that the leaders of Italy's three major parties had agreed on 68-year-old Enrico De Nicola, Neapolitan statesman, for provisional President of the new republic.

The Constituent Assembly is expected to make the selection this afternoon.

Flying Wing Makes Air History

The Northrop Flying Wing, XB-35, world's largest bomber, is shown as it took off at Hawthorne, Calif., on its initial flight. The tailless craft left the ground without a wobble, its four 3,000-horsepower engines putting it easily off the field with some 1,000 feet of the 4,000-foot runway to spare.

Byrnes To Demand Showdown For Peace Parley Decision

PARIS (AP)—State Secretary Byrnes served notice on the Foreign Ministers' Council tonight he intended to press for a decision tomorrow on the calling of a general European peace conference, a U.S. informant said.

The ministers, considerably encouraged by the solution Thursday of the Dodecanese Islands and the French-Italian border questions, instructed their deputies to bring in skeleton drafts of peace pacts for Italy, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary and Finland for today's session.

ALL TOPICS OPEN

A British source said that with all five treaties before them, the ministers would be able to take up any topic they desired. This might lead to further discussion of the knotty problem of Trieste, considered the key to solving the remaining issues.

Many of these issues were fundamental. They included reparations and colonial issues, as well as the division of surplus naval units, and compensation of Allied nationals for destruction of their property in Italy.

On the Balkan treaties, the principal problems concerned freedom of navigation on the Danube and freedom of commerce with Balkan nations. There were no fundamental points of disagreement on the Finnish treaty.

CANADA TO BE HEARD

When the full-dress peace conference is held, British and Canadian sources here still believe Prime Minister King will certainly attend, especially if Prime Minister Smuts of South Africa and some other Dominion premiers come.

But Canada probably will play a comparatively minor role. She definitely is interested, however, in Italian reparations, especially in Italian assets held in Canada and Canadian property in Italy.

Peace treaties between Canada and Italy will have to be fitted into the main clauses of the Italian pact.

The general assumption is that the Foreign Ministers actually are making the peace and the 21 countries in effect will only approve of the Big Four's work.

It depends on the middle and small powers when they come here whether or not their conference will merely be a rubber stamp.

Name Successor To Bishop Cody

Father James Hill, 47, parish priest of Campbellton, N.B., who was for some years rector of St. Thomas College for boys at Chatham, N.B., has been appointed to the Episcopal See of Victoria, to succeed Most Rev. John C. Cody.

It is not expected that he will take over his new appointment until after the centenary celebrations July 28 to Aug. 4, which are being held to observe the 100th anniversary of the establishment of this diocese.

Bishop Cody said today: "Conservation to the Episcopal follows in about six weeks after such an appointment."

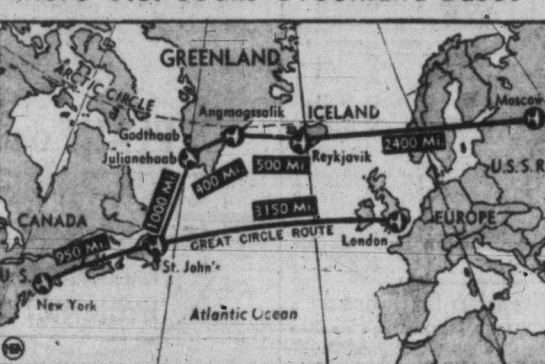

Bishop Cody will leave Victoria shortly after the centenary celebrations to take up his duties as coadjutor Bishop of London, Ont. Bishop Cody has been here nine years.

New Regulations Made For Dairies, Creameries

New regulations, made under the Creameries and Dairies Act, are published in the B.C. Gazette today. They supercede regulations made in June, 1925.

The regulations set out new forms for creamery and dairy licenses, provide for examinations of applicants for milksters' and cream-graders' licenses, and set out standards for table cream and cream for manufacturing.

Most Provinces Study Plan For New Agreement

By Canadian Press

Approval mingled with criticism today as Canadians absorbed details of the federal budget presented in Ottawa by Finance Minister Ilsley.

The reactions were varied—depending on the source of the comment and on the particular angle under study. Most of the provinces had not yet shown reaction for the time being on one point—the offer of a new five-year taxation to the provinces on an optional basis, but it was clear the governments were studying that part of the speech.

A survey by the Canadian Press showed all provincial Premiers wary of immediate comment except Premier Stuart Garson of Manitoba and Premier T. C. Douglas of Saskatchewan.

Mr. Garson said at Winnipeg the proposal was "acceptable in principle." But the proposals would have to be analyzed, and he preferred to withhold further comment.

Premier Drew of Ontario said: "Last August the Dominion government presented an extensive series of proposals for a new tax agreement. Those proposals were found unsatisfactory for every province. Since then the Dominion government has presented three new sets of proposals. Until the Ontario government has been extended the courtesy of a complete statement of the new position of the Dominion government which Mr. Ilsley gave to Parliament at a late hour Thursday night we will have no comment to make."

Premier Angus L. Macdonald of Nova Scotia said he would study the proposals before comment. He said he had received a telegram from Mr. Ilsley asking his reply as soon as he had time to study them.

Premier E. C. Manning of Alberta was temporarily away from government offices and was staying at Banff.

In Saskatoon, Premier T. C. Douglas expressed "delight" that Finance Minister Ilsley had made an offer in the budget speech signifying the federal government's willingness to enter into a separate financial agreement with any province wishing to do so.

"Fine, fine," the Premier said as he read a report of the speech. He said the offer was in accordance with a request he had made on behalf of his colleagues in a letter to Mr. Ilsley after the Dominion-Provincial Conference had been adjourned in May without a date being set for reconvening.

The Provincial Cabinet would meet today and Saturday to study the proposal and the government would convey as quickly as possible to Mr. Ilsley whether or not the proposal was acceptable to the Saskatchewan government Mr. Douglas said.

DRAFT TAX PLANS

He said the government had been working on taxes to be imposed on certain types of corporations. If no agreement could be reached, it would not be necessary now to proceed with them. Asked whether there would be a special session of the Legislature next fall, Mr. Douglas said it would depend on whether the federal government wanted agreements ratified before the end of this year.

Under the previous Dominion proposal the agreements were to have been made by Aug. 31.

Farmers Commend Average Tax

The income tax change in the budget allowing farmers and fishermen to pay tax on the basis of their average income over a three-year period was commended by farm spokesmen.

George W. Robertson, secretary of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, said the proposal was a concession, "but it would have been fairer to provide a five-year basis." R. J. Boutiller, secretary of the Alberta Farmers' Union said at Edmonton, the government had "gone some of the way—but not all of the way—we have been asking."

His union has advocated averaging farm income tax on a five-year basis at least.

William Rigby, secretary of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union at Vancouver said "the principle is what we have been striving for—but unless there is a lower actual deduction it will not benefit the fisherman when he needs the money most."

Co-operatives heard with satisfaction the announcement that patronage dividends and similar payments will be treated as a deduction from taxable income. Such a move was recommended by the Royal Commission on Co-operatives after much contentious argument.

On the reduction from 40 to 30 per cent of the corporation profits tax, a leading Toronto industrialist—who declined to be quoted—said "this will be very well received."

Labor leaders at Toronto were critical. J. A. Sullivan, secretary of the Trades and Labor Congress and president of the Canadian Seamen's Union, declared the budget "falls very short of what the T.L.C. asked the government for. We wanted much higher exemptions for personal income taxpayers."

Hart Plans Ottawa Trip On New Tax Proposals

Premier John Hart said today he would go to Ottawa shortly to confer informally with Dominion government proposals to the provinces for new tax arrangements.

Making this statement following a meeting with the provincial cabinet this morning, Mr. Hart said he was awaiting a copy of the budget speech which Dominion Finance Minister J. L. Ilsley was forwarding him by air mail. After he had studied the budget speech, which contained new tax proposals, which may be adopted by the provinces to supercede the wartime tax agreement, Mr. Hart will go to Ottawa.

Probably accompanying him will be Neil Perry, advisor on Dominion-provincial questions to the Premier. Mr. Perry is also director of the Bureau of Economics and Statistics in the provincial Department of Trade and Industry. He has done much of the background work on the province's submissions to previous Dominion-provincial conferences.

In a wire, Mr. Ilsley asked Mr. Hart to indicate whether or not the new tax proposals were acceptable to him in principle.

Text of Mr. Ilsley's telegram is as follows:

"In my budget speech today I am making an offer on behalf of the government of Canada to each province to enter into a new tax agreement on the expiration of the present wartime tax agreement. I am sending a copy of my budget speech tonight containing the new proposals and when you have had time for consideration I would be glad to know if they are acceptable to you in principle."

The present wartime tax agreement between the government of British Columbia and the federal government ends March 31, 1947. Mr. Hart declined to indicate when he would go to Ottawa for the discussions in which he will seek further information about the new proposals.

Isley Sees High Level Of Employment For Year

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Isley in his budget address called for a peak production of civilian goods to keep expenditures and employment high.

If there were no interruptions to production, Canada's gross national production this year would total about $11,000,000,000, almost double that of 1938—the first year before the outbreak of war—and only slightly lower than 1944, one of peak war production years.

Canada had made a remarkably fast switch from war service and work to peacetime jobs and objectives. The main reason for this was that war expenditures had been replaced by expenditures from other sources.

The four chief reasons were:

1. Continued heavy demand for Canadian food, raw materials and civilian manufactured goods for export.
2. Capital expenditure by private enterprise on new construction, equipment and machinery.
3. The expenditures by consumers from out of reserves accumulated during the war.
4. Non-war expenditures by governments and municipalities on projects which had been postponed during the war but which now had to be proceeded with.

"While I hesitate to venture into the field of forecasting economic developments in a world as chaotic and eventful as the one we are living in the present time, it appears that these major influences which have maintained a high level of expenditure for Canadian goods and services despite the reduction in war expenditure, will persist for the remainder of this fiscal year, and beyond it, unless further difficulties arise to retard production," Mr. Isley said.

"If these difficulties can be avoided, then I think we may reasonably expect a level of expenditure adequate to maintain a high level of employment and production through the year. Indeed, the pressure of expenditure in many fields is so great that action by the government and others is needed to prevent rapidly increasing prices and the development of inflation."

CRITICAL YEAR
He described this as the "critical year" in the fight against inflation, and he addressed a special plea to business men to help keep prices down.

"Production then should be our primary objective both for its own sake in a world that needs goods so badly, and as a safeguard against the present danger of inflation. No longer must civilian production be restricted in order to conserve resources for war. It now can receive first priority."

Taxable Revenues Up By $48,000,000

OTTAWA (CP)—The government obtained approximately $48,000,000 more in net taxable revenues in 1945-46 than in 1944-45 despite substantial tax reductions made in the last budget, Finance Minister Isley told the Commons in the fiscal portion of his budget.

Mr. Isley said this was because total tax revenues, which at $2,275,000,000 were $100,000,000 less than the preceding year, included only $73,000,000 of refundable taxes compared with $220,000,000 in the previous year.

Non-tax revenues from post office receipts and return on investments, increased by about $15,000,000 to $180,000,000, bringing the total of ordinary revenues to $2,436,000,000, down $84,000,000 from the 1945-46 fiscal year.

Quarter Of Budget Goes To Veterans

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada will spend $620,000,000 in the current fiscal year in various payments to or on behalf of war veterans, Finance Minister Isley said Thursday in fiscal portion of his budget presented in the Commons.

Mr. Isley said this figure included war service gratuities, benefits, re-establishment credits and other assistance for those leaving the forces, but did not

Mayhew Asks Howe To Reconsider Close-In Airport

A meeting of the Greater Victoria Airport Committee will be called early in July to discuss purchase of property in the proposed Gordon Head airport site, A. B. J. Gadsden, chairman, said today.

Ald. Gadsden's action followed receipt of a letter Thursday from R. W. Mayhew, M.P., in which he stated he had asked Hon. C. D. Howe "to reconsider the development of an airfield close to the city and, failing this, to either put on an adequate service by T.C.A. or to vacate the field and allow the C.P.A. to do it."

"It is my opinion that Victoria must have a shuttle service working almost continuously between Victoria, Seattle and Vancouver," Mr. Mayhew stated. "Patricia Bay is too far away to develop the service that is necessary."

"The announcement that T.C.A. was going to operate between Seattle and Victoria as a tag-end to a trans-Canada service, in my opinion, is not satisfactory," Mr. Mayhew continued. "It might be all right for the occasional flyers who can laugh at an hour or two's delay, but it is the business people who are going to make this service permanent and successful, and they have neither the time nor the inclination to drive to Patricia Bay and there be advised that T.C.A. is an hour or two late, or probably find their trip was cancelled altogether."

Naval property on the Gordon Head airport site has been declared surplus and turned over to War Assets Corporation, Mr. Mayhew wrote in answer to a query.

"I feel very encouraged by the steps Mr. Mayhew is taking, for he appreciates the importance of the matter," Ald. Gadsden said.

The latter will attend a meeting of Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion July 2 to discuss the airport situation.

Elect June Eckert Duncan Lumber Queen

DUNCAN — June Eckert of Lake Cowichan, sponsored by the Lake Cowichan and Duncan Kinsmen Clubs, was elected "Lumber Queen for 1946" with a total of 192,800 votes.

Taking second place was Ruth Brooks, sponsored by the Loyal Order of Moose with 159,700 votes and Betty Masters, sponsored by the local I.W.O.A., third, with 117,700 votes.

Miss Eckert will be crowned by Valerie Hamilton, lumber queen for 1945, and will reign at the Duncan Dominion Day carnival.

2,000 Dependents Aboard Queen Mary

The liner Queen Mary is expected to dock at Halifax July 4, carrying more than 2,000 wives and children of Canadian servicemen, the Canadian Pacific Railway was advised today.

One C.P.R. train will move 235 wives and 170 children to Toronto, and another, carrying 245 adults and 145 children is destined for western points.

New B.C. Legislator

A. R. MACDOUGALL, M.L.A.

Elected along with L. F. Stevenson at the by-election held in Vancouver-Point Grey constituency last Monday, A. Reginald MacDougall, Vancouver barrister and solicitor with the firm of MacDougall, Morrison and Jettley, will take his seat in the B.C. Legislature when the House is reconvened early next year.

Born in Moncton, N.B., 43 years ago, Mr. MacDougall was educated at public and high schools in Moncton and proceeded to Mount Allison University, where he took his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1923.

He proceeded as a Rhodes scholar to Merton College, Oxford, where he took his Bachelor of Civil Laws degree in 1926, and his Master of Arts degree in 1930. He is a member of the bar of Ontario and New Brunswick as well as of British Columbia.

2nd Tornado Hits Detroit; 9 Hurt

DETROIT (AP)—A short-lived tornado—the second in 11 days—swirled across the border Thursday, injuring at least nine persons and damaging property in Detroit and Windsor, Ont. There were no reports of fatalities.

The twister apparently formed in Windsor, swung across the Detroit River and cut sharply through an industrial area of the U.S. city.

It spent its strength in about two minutes.

Observers said it reversed the direction of the similar tornado that claimed 17 lives and injured hundreds in the Sandwich, Ont., area June 17.

Witnesses on the Canadian side said a strong wind, accompanying an electrical storm, damaged a section of that city and injured one man.

Victorian Elected

HALIFAX (CP)—Dr. H. S. Stewart, dean of theology at McMaster University, Hamilton, Ont., was elected president of the Canadian Conference in Social Work Thursday, succeeding E. H. Blois, Deputy Minister of Public Welfare for Nova Scotia. E. W. Griffith of Victoria is a member of the new executive committee.

Bus Schedules To Be Speeded Up On Gonzales Routes

Changes in the time-table schedules of the Fairfield-Gonzales and Richardson-Gonzales bus routes, which will speed up both service and accommodation during the rush traffic hours, were announced today by the B.C. Electric Railway Company's traffic department. The new schedule will become operative Monday morning, July 1.

The changes have been made possible by the recent arrival of 10 new Canadian Brill buses, some of which have already been placed in operation on the Fairfield and Mount Tolmie routes.

Major feature of the new schedules, in addition to the speeding of the service, will be the increased accommodation which will be provided on the Gonzales belt lines. Since the lines were placed in operation the company has been using 27-passenger buses on the two routes. The faster service and the larger 36-passenger Brill equipment will nearly double the rush-hour accommodation.

The speeded service will be effective between 7 and 9 in the morning, during the noon hour, and between 4 and 6 in the evening, according to H. Rowland Halls, traffic superintendent.

"This new schedule should materially improve the overcrowding situation, which has been prevalent during rush periods," Mr. Halls said. "During the hours affected there will be an increase on the belt line route from 216 seats an hour to 405 seats an hour."

In addition to the Gonzales changes, Mr. Halls stated an extension of the hours of operation of the express service from the city to north and south Esquimalt had been instituted. In place of the former service which operated direct to the city in the afternoon only, the hours of operation now run from 6.30 a.m. until 11.30 p.m.

Maple Bay Boy Hurt By High Tension Wire

DUNCAN—Condition of Billy Vogel, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Vogel, Duncan, was considered favorable today following an accident Wednesday at Maple Bay.

In company with several other boys, young Vogel was bringing his sail boat from the water across the road when the steel mast hit a high tension wire. Vogel was knocked unconscious and rushed to the King's Daughters Hospital here.

Bull Attacks Man

DUNCAN—Severe injuries were sustained by John Nelson, Thursday, when he was attacked by a bull on his Sahtlan farm.

Mr. Nelson was rescued by F. R. Newham, Cecil Smith and Jack Martin, and is now confined to the King's Daughters Hospital here. Martin fired a shot at the bull.

Claims U.S. Wants Arctic Air Bases

TORONTO (CP)—The Financial Post, in a dispatch from its Ottawa correspondent said Thursday a virtual ultimatum from the United States, calling on Canada to fortify her northern frontier, is reported to have hastened Prime Minister King's return from England this month.

The paper continued: "Through its membership in the Permanent Joint Defence Board, the United States is understood to have said in effect to Canada:

"In order to do your part in the defensive protection of the American Arctic we want you to build, or let us build for you, a system of northern frontier air bases to be maintained, and equipped as part of the general defensive machinery of this continent."

The paper said the U.S. plan was to complete the northern defence of this continent just as eastern and western defences were jointly completed during the recent war and this would mean not only huge landing fields but vast machinery and equipment to service and maintain big air squadrons and additionally a network of communications to service these bases.

No British Decision Yet On Conscription

LONDON (Reuters)—War Secretary Jack Lawson told House of Commons Thursday he was not in a position to say whether some form of conscription would continue as part of Britain's peacetime army organization.

(The government recently announced conscription would continue on an indefinite basis for the present.)

Mr. Lawson said that whatever the final decision might be, volunteers who joined the territorial army would be of great value, and he hoped that many thousands of veterans would remain in the army.

I. S. Honors Winnipeg Scientist Who Gave Life In Atomic Blast

WASHINGTON (CP)—Dr. Louis B. Slotin, 35-year-old nuclear physicist of Winnipeg, was officially praised today for his heroic and successful efforts to save his fellow-workers when he was fatally burned in an atomic laboratory mishap at Los Alamos, N.M., last May 21.

Maj. Gen. E. R. Groves, head of the "Manhattan Project," which developed the atomic bomb, issued a report in which he said Dr. Slotin's lightning-quick presence of mind undoubtedly saved his seven scientist associates.

Dr. Slotin was completing last-minute preparations of fissionable materials associated with the Bikini atom experiment to which he had been assigned when the accident occurred.

When the slip of an instrument threw these materials together Dr. Slotin interposed his body between the explosion and his seven assistants and quickly scattered the materials to halt radiation. He died as a result of exposure to radiation, but not until he had said during the post-mortem that he believed it quite true the home had not played the right part in the matter of preventing crime.

However, the home was not entirely to blame. Because of the economic and other conditions in which some homes were situated, society as a whole had to shoulder some of the blame.

In cities such as Ottawa there were no places where boys and girls, of adolescent age could go together for cultural and recreational entertainment.

There were few places they could go to dance and as a result they wound up in night clubs and places where there was liquor.

Mr. Coldwell stressed the need of training guards in their duties in penitentiary. At present guards were chosen for physique and past training.

He said the guards should be trained in handling human beings. Understanding of the psychology of inmates would assist in reformation.

John Blackmore, S.C., Lethbridge, Alta., asked for statements on the treatment of mental cases in penal institutions and on the type of work now going on in such places.

Borstal System Urged By M.P.'s In Debate On Penal Reform Needs

OTTAWA (CP)—In a quiet pre-budget sitting, the Commons Thursday discussed penal reform and heard a half-dozen members urge implementation of the recommendations of the Archambault Royal Commission, which made an extensive study of Canada's penitentiary system before the war.

Members of both sides of the House placed stress on the need for more crime prevention and rehabilitation of prisoners and urged the establishment of the Borstal system, which in Britain had salvaged many youthful criminals and made them better citizens.

At the House opening, Labor Minister Mitchell tabled the final report of the Royal Commission on veterans' qualifications recommending uniformity in provincial legislation on trade standards and apprenticeship training. The committee has been operating since 1945, under the chairmanship of Lt.-Col. Wilfrid Bovey.

Third and final reading was given a bill dealing with the marking of articles containing gold, silver and platinum.

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, said during the post-mortem that he believed it quite true the home had not played the right part in the matter of preventing crime.

However, the home was not entirely to blame. Because of the economic and other conditions in which some homes were situated, society as a whole had to shoulder some of the blame.

Mr. Justice Wilson To Investigate B.C. Mines Labor Dispute

OTTAWA (CP)—Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson of the British Columbia Supreme Court has been appointed a commissioner to investigate a dispute among British Columbia's hardrock miners, it was learned Thursday.

Appointment of a commissioner was suggested to Labor Minister Mitchell Wednesday by Hon. George S. Pearson, British Columbia labor minister, when negotiations between the International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (C.I.O.) and a group of mine operators failed. The union threatened to take strike action July 3 which would affect 2,500 miners.

The union seeks a 40-hour week, general wage increases of 29 cents an hour and a union security contract. Mine companies offered a wage increase of 6 1/2 cents.

20-Year Sentence For Elderly Farmer

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—George Roediger, 60-year-old farmer, was sentenced early this morning to 20 years in penitentiary shortly after he had been convicted on a charge of attempted murder of his stepson, Donald Galloway.

Roediger sat for four hours in the witness box in the assize court Thursday recounting a 45-year career of crime and jail terms. He admitted having gone through forms of marriage with nine women.

Testifying in his own defence, he contradicted evidence by Galloway, who said his stepfather shot him in the side from a woodshed. Roediger said the shotgun was discharged during a scuffle in the kitchen of the farm house.

He admitted serving a jail term for embezzlement and fraud in Bremen, Germany, in 1901, together with convictions in Saskatchewan in 1916 and 1933 and bigamy and theft in Winnipeg in 1937. He testified that he came from Germany in 1911 with his first wife, who died from mistaking poison tablets for aspirin.

Retracing his other marital ventures, he said he married Martha Stewick in Brooklyn in 1927. She left him after six months. His third wife died of an epileptic fit.

Roediger said he was later convicted of bigamy at Catskill, N.Y., and was deported after serving a sentence. Under the name of Rogers, he married Mrs. Ada MacKenzie in Barrie, Ont., in 1935; she left him after three months. Next, using the name Brown, he married a Mrs. Roeding on Aug. 15, 1936, but she, too, left him after a short time. On Nov. 21 of that year, under the name of Cook, he married a Miss Boess in Montreal, and in December repeated the procedure with a Mrs. Biercroft in Quebec.

Moving west, Roediger said he married a Philippine Strassburger in Edmonton in 1937. He married Mrs. Galloway, in Vancouver last March.

WIMBLEDON (AP)—Jack Kramer of California rolled into the fourth round of the men's singles in the All-England Tennis Championships Thursday with a straight set 6-1, 6-0, 6-0 victory over Ignace Tloczynski of Poland.

The Australian Geoff Brown won his third round match from E. Wittman of Poland in straight sets, 6-0, 6-0, 6-2.

In another third round match Dinny Pails of Australia, seeded No. 1, won handily from D. W. Butler of Britain, 6-1, 6-4, 6-2, while Tom Brown of San Francisco sprang a surprise upset when he defeated fourth-seeded Pancho Segura of Ecuador, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3, 6-3.

Louise Brough and Margaret Osborne, best women's tennis pair in the U.S. for the past four years, launched their bid for the Wimbledon doubles crown with a quick win over a British pair, Mrs. R. E. Haylock and Mrs. H. S. Uber, 6-2, 6-0.

Two other Americans, Mrs. Pat Canning Todd and Dorothy Bundy defeated Miss S. Pannetier and Mrs. D. Paton of France, 6-4, 6-3.

8-Hour Working Day On Ships Defeated

SEATTLE (AP)—A heated debate between Representative Harry Jackson, Dem., Wash., United States delegate, and George R. Strauss, member of the British Parliament and United Kingdom delegate, at an all-night session of the World Maritime Conference wage and hour committee ended today in a blasting defeat for an American proposal for a flat eight-hour day for seamen.

Charges that the U.S. government delegation was attempting to wreck the proposed international wage-hour convention by demanding an eight-hour day on all ships were hurled during the discussion on the issue by Strauss and Richard Snedden, British shipowners' delegate.

Replying to Strauss' statement that an eight-hour day could not

THE BUDGET

ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT PROVISIONS of the budget statement which Hon. J. L. Ilsley, Minister of Finance, presented to the House of Commons last night is that which will automatically exempt more than half a million Canadians from personal income tax obligations when the new schedules apply at the beginning of next year. Although the guardian of the national till made no specific promises in advance, it was generally understood that he would not only extend relief to wage-earners in the lower income brackets, but also rectify certain inequalities which wartime exigencies imposed upon the taxation structure. By raising the exemption figure for both single and married persons, and by treating the working husband and the earning wife as single persons for taxation purposes, for example, the Minister acted wisely.

Reductions in the corporation tax, removal of the excess profits tax from partnerships and sole proprietorships, and other adjustments in this general category should furnish new stimulants to commercial expansion in numerous fields. Business and the people generally will derive considerable satisfaction from Mr. Ilsley's announcement that expenditures for the current fiscal year show a decrease of no less than $355,000,000, and the total revenue, exclusive of refundable taxes, will amount to $2,955,000,000, leaving an over-all deficit for the 1945-1946 period of $1,736,000,000—or a reduction compared with the previous fiscal year of $822,000,000. The rise in expenditure during the current period amounting to some $239,000,000 was determined by the higher cost of servicing the public debt and by the new charge on the national treasury in respect of Family Allowances, the latter cost accounting for $173,000,000. In these computations, however, will be seen the beginning of the end of deficit spending—unavoidable during the great emergency—and the prospect of an early balanced budget.

It is eminently satisfactory that Mr. Ilsley, acting on the report of the special committee of the Senate on taxation, has made provision for the establishment of a board to hear appeals from tax assessments for 1946 and succeeding years. This will give the taxpayer a cheap and quicker method of obtaining action on appeals which, under the existing system, have to be made through the Exchequer Court. This departure, incidentally, should also do away with the voluminous correspondence with which overworked local taxation offices have to deal—mostly insignificant matters compared with the larger problems of taxation, but important to the individual taxpayer.

How seriously the provincial Premiers will take Mr. Ilsley's proposal to the provinces is a subject on which it is impossible to speculate before reactions from the governments concerned have manifested themselves. These will not be forthcoming, of course, until the full details of the Minister's scheme have been studied. It will strike the average citizen, however, that the difference of view between some of the provinces and the Dominion will not be composed until the provincial Premiers sit down again with the federal ministers and reconsider their respective positions in the light of the new proposal, which, incidentally, does not conform in several particulars to British Columbia's concept of a formula.

'CRITICAL YEAR'

MR. ILSLEY WAS GUILTY OF NO EXAGGERATION when he reminded the House of Commons in particular and the public generally that this is the "critical year" in the fight against inflation. He understands the weight of the pressures which are being exerted in various quarters for the removal of all wage and price controls. But he understands better than anybody else in this country what would have happened to the nation's economy years ago had not the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, under the able direction of Mr. Donald Gordon, held the line. As the Minister pointed out, however, "it would be the greatest folly now to dissipate the fruits of our efforts by letting prices get out of hand, by letting inflation set in when the battle is nearly over." And so long as great purchasing power is tending to increase the prices of available goods, and so long as increased costs of production add their upward push, determination to counter this double-barrelled pressure will be essential. The following phrase in Mr. Ilsley's budget statement should be noted by all Canadians who still seem to regard the word "inflation" as if it had significance only for the economic expert:

"The real answer, the constructive answer, to the inflationary pressures existing at this time is to work and produce the goods that are wanted in greater volume, so that our great buying power will result in more goods at reasonable prices, rather than fewer at higher prices."

What those who are urging the removal of all wage and price controls never explain to the public, when they argue that existing restrictions are impeding production, is the effect their policy would have on the law of supply and demand in the interval essential to allow production to catch up with needs. In that relatively short period of time prices of everything in short supply—and that is almost every commodity in abundance before the great conflict—would instantly skyrocket. Only those with bulging purses would escape hardship; the "little people" of Canada would feel the pinch immediately. The value of money and every form of financial security would deteriorate; and the natural corollary of inflation is deflation—with its business failures and vanishing pay-rolls.

DEBT NEED NOT ALARM

DURING RECENT YEARS THE PEOPLE of Canada have grown so used to arithmetical exercises in billions of dollars that Mr. Ilsley's budget computation of the nation's unmatured funded debt at $16,807,000,000 and a net debt at March 31, 1946, of $13,034,000,000, probably did not excite them in the least. Nor is there any reason why it should cause them undue alarm; the Minister of Finance expects the Dominion's income this year to reach $11,000,000,000 or only about three-quarters of a billion less than in the war peak year—a pleasing prospect which should furnish a new incentive to greater and greater production. For not only does increased production mean more national wealth; it is the most effective weapon against the inflationary dragon. And his categorical announcement that Canada's present level of employment and prosperity is setting a new peacetime high is doubly welcome because Mr. Ilsley, as the guardian of the national treasury, is not given to pleasant platitudes. His ministerial role obliges him to deal with stern realities.

The average citizen, particularly the 3,000,000 who hold Victory Bonds, have a fairly comprehensive idea of the recent conflict's cost to this country in terms of dollars and cents. The amount of the funded debt speaks for itself; but Mr. Ilsley's intimation that the annual cost of servicing that debt in interest charges alone amounts to no less than $436,000,000, helps the taxpayers better to understand the nature of their individual obligations—and why the minister pleads for greater and constant production to maintain the national income as near as possible at its present high level. And if there are any Canadians nursing an inferiority complex, financial or otherwise, it should vanish on the instant they learn that the interest charge alone on the Dominion's funded debt as of last March 31 is $60,000,000 in excess of the total net debt of the Dominion on Dec. 31, 1914. In other words, Canada's ability to carry this vastly increased burden is proof in itself of her maturity as an important financial nation.

REGISTRATION AND VOTING

IN THE REPORT OF THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE of the Legislative Assembly, appointed to consider and revise the electoral system of British Columbia, there occurs this significant sentence: "Experience has shown that it is a waste of time to expect the average voter to take any trouble voluntarily." That sentence expresses the conviction arrived at by a representative committee of the people specifically appointed to inquire into the method by which the qualified voter "be allowed to express his opinion with the least possible trouble to himself and with simple machinery." Perhaps it is qualified by a further expression of the opinion of the committee, that "it is idle to suppose that the average individual will take any trouble to register as a voter; he will go to the poll quite expecting to vote."

This verdict of the committee could be summarized by saying that many citizens expect to vote when they want to express an opinion on any matter which affects them or their personally. But when they go to cast their ballots and are told they are not on the electoral roll they call down on the head of the government—any government—all the imprecations of which they can think. It seldom occurs to them that they and they alone are to blame. They have not taken the trouble to register; hence, compulsory registration of every citizen entitled to vote should overcome the fundamental difficulty. The fact a potential voter is registered, of course, is no guarantee that he or she will exercise the franchise. The Australian policy of imposing a fine on all who fail to discharge this obligation of citizenship is a good one.

HIGH COURAGE

THE DETAILS OF THE MISHAP which claimed the life of Dr. Louis B. Slotin, 35-year-old nuclear physicist of Winnipeg, are but briefly sketched in the tribute paid to him by Maj. Gen. L. R. Groves, the leading figure in the organization which developed the atomic bomb. They are, nevertheless, indicative to a point understandable to the layman, who will see in the action of the Canadian scientist that high type of heroism which sacrifices self for the safety of others.

It is conceivable that Dr. Slotin might be alive today had he not interposed his body between that of his fellow workers and the explosive mixture which the slip of an instrument had thrown together during a process connected with preparation of fissionable materials. That, of course, is speculative. Instead, he chose to protect his assistants at his own risk. Moreover, realizing the condition in which his exposure to radiation had placed him, he was able to leave much of the knowledge to his colleagues which might have died with him.

Canadians and men of science generally have reason to mourn the loss of this distinguished physicist. Their sorrow, however, will be tempered by the deep admiration they have for the fine type of courage he displayed.

Walter Lippmann

EXIT FROM A BLIND ALLEY

MR. BARUCH'S REMARKS on the veto contain an important sentence of which the idea and the keyword repeat, and are perhaps an echo from a sentence in the Federalist papers (No. 15).

In discussing the weakness of the United Nations Charter where it deals with the enforcement of international agreements, Mr. Baruch said that "the charter permits penalization only by concurrence of each of the five great powers."

Alexander Hamilton in discussing "the insufficiency of the present confederation to the preservation of the union," wrote that "in our case the concurrence of 13 distinct wills is requisite . . . to the complete execution of every important measure."

But there the agreement ends between Hamilton's treatment of this fundamental problem and Mr. Baruch's. For Mr. Baruch, who cannot recently have read the Federalist in preparing himself for his great task, has allowed and encouraged his American supporters to demand the very solution which Hamilton and the Founding Fathers considered thoroughly, debated exhaustively, and rejected. It is the notion that since it is exceedingly difficult to get sovereign states to concur, to act unanimously, not to veto agreement, the remedy lies in abolishing the veto power and substituting majority rule.

THIS IS FOR THE MOMENT a popular notion in this country. But that is only because it appears to be a short and simple way of dealing with the Russians. Yet for the reasons so cogently expounded in the Federalist papers, it will not prove to be a successful method. Majority rule is a great principle for deciding issues among individual voters. It is an impossible device for deciding serious issues among powerful sovereign states. For the decisions of a majority of citizens can be enforced by arresting and punishing individuals who violate the laws made by the majority. But the decisions of a majority of governments can be enforced only by war. Since this punishment, namely war, is as punishing to the law-abiding as to the law-breaking states, it will be applied so rarely and so reluctantly that it cannot be counted upon. "It is not probable, considering the genius of this country," said Hamilton (Federalist No. 16), "that the complying states would often be inclined to support the authority of the union by engaging in a war against the noncomplying states."

MR. BARUCH'S TREATMENT of the veto has taken this country—which has the responsibility of leadership in the field of atomic energy—up a blind alley. Somehow it will be necessary to retrace our steps, taking as our guide the deep political wisdom of the men who did in fact solve the problem of the veto power among the sovereign American states. They have taught us that the veto cannot be removed by substituting the majority rule of governments but that it can be superseded as general laws are enacted.

We cannot afford to misunderstand this problem. For on the right solution of it may well hang our hope of peace and an ordered world. The Russians have used the veto so often and so tactlessly and so recklessly that they have prejudiced a clear understanding of the real problem. Yet the fact of the matter is that the veto can be used only before there is an accepted and clearly defined law on a subject. Once there is a law, the veto cannot be invoked to repeal it. Once there is a law that says who is to enforce it, before what tribunal cases under it are to be heard, by what institution it is to be construed, by what institution it may be amended, there is no veto power left in matters which that law deals with.

SO IT IS through the enactment of laws, and in no other way, that the veto problem can be solved. That is the reason why Mr. Gromyko's contribution opens up such an immense opportunity for creative and constructive statesmanship. Let us not look his gift horse in the mouth. Let us have the magnanimity to welcome it and then ride it, recognizing that it is not an alternative to the American proposals but that it is capable of being made into the necessary and imposing framework and support of those proposals.

(This is the first half of an article by Mr. Lippmann comparing the two main approaches to atomic bomb control. It will be completed in tomorrow's issue.)

India is in a worse position than any European country. If we could keep up 1,200 calories a day we'd be glad.—Sir Ramaswami Mudaliar, president U.N. Economic and Social Council.

The great advance that can be made in air transport from the present level is not in speed, or even in economy, important as that is, but in regularity.—Dr. Edward Warner, president Interim Council, Provisional International Civil Aviation Organization.

School home economics departments spend hours teaching pupils to make fancy sandwiches and none telling them how to build a home. If we can't save the families, we can't save America.—Dr. Willis A. Sutton, former president U.S. National Education Association.

Okanagan Suffers From Strike

BY Renny Englebert

THE WORLD'S number one in food production today is food production and British Columbia's contribution is, in no small measure, the Okanagan Valley fruit and vegetable crop. The effect of the woodworkers' strike has posed an economic problem for the fruit growers. It also goes to prove the inter-relationship between British Columbia industries.

Fruit growing in the Okanagan Valley is an all-year-round operation. Those who work in the valley of sunshine and apples look forward each spring to a reward for their efforts. Fortunately the war years have been good but few growers have caught up with their losses in the thirties. Whatever their returns may be, they work to the limit of their powers. For them there is no arbitration court, no security from depression, weather, pests or anything else. Instead of a 40 or 44-hour week, they work in summer months for 16 or 17 hours a day. There is no let-up in other seasons of the year. Pruning keeps them busy in the winter. Spring is the time when trees are given three or four sprayings. Growers then wait until late in April or early May to see their trees burst into bloom. By June, the little apples are as big as walnuts and it is time for thinning. At the end of June, cherry and other picking begins and continues throughout the summer until the monster apple crop is ready in September.

THE OKANAGAN and Kootenay Valleys, with mountains, desert, lakes and orchards, stretch from Kamloops to Creston and cover an area of 40,000 square miles. There are 3,500 registered growers cultivating 30,000 acres of apples and 10,000 acres of soft fruits. A few have larger holdings but the average grower handles 10 acres of rich, irrigated soil.

In pre-war years Okanagan Valley apples were shipped all over the world. The most important market was the United Kingdom but shipments went to Egypt, Greece, Palestine and South America. Greater cold storage facilities on ships would have enabled export of the British Columbia fruit to the Far East.

THE CHIEF markets today are British Columbia and the prairies although they penetrate all Canadian provinces through to Nova Scotia. In these exceptional times of food shortages and particularly the higher purchasing power in western Canada, the Okanagan fruit industry can sell its attractive apples at attractive prices. Ordinarily, it has to look to export markets. Competition is extremely stiff when it is borne in mind that England grows more apples than the Okanagan and increased costs may kill British Columbia's markets for the future.

No business can afford or wants to stand still and the Okanagan fruit industry today is a tremendous undertaking, well planned and expanding all the time. An extensive new irrigation program has been mapped out with the B.C. Power Commission. The valley supports thousands of people and each town of importance has its own sawmills where shooks for fruit packing are made. Due to the strike the small storekeepers of these towns lost a staggering figure in purchasing power. Daily losses in wages to sawmill workers and loggers were $3,500 in Vernon and district, $2,500 in Kelowna and district, $2,500 in Kamloops, $900 in Penticton, $900 in Summerland and $500 in Armstrong. These daily totals of $10,800 meant an overall loss of $380,000 over the strike period.

HOW DO GROWERS feel when, working to the limit of their resources, they watch labor unions lay down their tools and disrupt the province's economy? As one energetic grower put it, he wondered what union leaders would say if all the growers declared a strike and held up supplies of fruit and vegetables to the innocent public. Fortunately they are an unselfish race. That,

Children's Show At Atlas-Saturday

Another special children's matinee will be held next Saturday morning at the Atlas Theatre at 9.45. In addition to the Walt Disney featurette, "Saludos Amigos," there will be a "Speaking of Animals" short and 60 minutes of cartoons.

This presentation, shown regularly during the winter months at the Atlas Theatre, will become a monthly feature during July and August. Every presentation is especially selected for children.

A "Saturday Matinee Club" is run in conjunction with these performances. New applications to join this club are made regularly. Membership is free. Children obtain application blanks on Saturdays at the door on their way out and in turn are issued membership cards.

CAPITOL THEATRE

George Brent, who recently scored as the doctor-hero of "Experiment Perilous," has another dramatic role as Claudette Colbert's second husband, a wealthy manufacturer, in International Pictures' newest RKO-Radio release, "Tomorrow Is Forever," now being shown at the Capitol Theatre.

PLAZA THEATRE

Nigel Bruce sings. The surprise announcement from Universal confirms a prevailing rumor that the star is to make his vocal debut in the latest Sherlock Holmes production, "Pursuit to Algiers," currently at the Plaza Theatre.

900 Air Cadets To Attend Camp

More than 900 air cadets from 221 squadrons throughout British Columbia will attend summer camp this year at Patricia Bay R.C.A.F. station.

The camp will be divided into three two-week periods - from July 3 to 17, July 24 to Aug. 7, and Aug. 14 to 28.

The cadets will receive practical training in flying control, marine craft, aero-engines, airframes, armament, meteorology and intelligence. They also will have synthetic training in the Link Trainer as well as flying as crewmen in the aircraft piloted by R.C.A.F. personnel.

Church Group Stages Musical Comedy Here

An appreciative audience attended the first performance of the Queen of Peace Players when they presented an original musical comedy, "Petty Lunacy," in the parish hall of Queen of Peace Church.

The play was written and directed by Mrs. C. D. Macklin, with Miss June Bregoliss, accompanist.

The cast included: Mrs. Macklin, Mrs. A. Smith, Mrs. Bethel, Mrs. Brain, Mrs. A. Romanchuk, Mrs. F. Murray, Mrs. C. MacFarlane and Mrs. G. R. Guillemaud.

ATLAS THEATRE

"Leave Her to Heaven," the 20th Century-Fox technicolor film version of Ben Ames-Williams' best-seller which is now at the Atlas Theatre, is one motion picture for which the background music was not dubbed in as an afterthought.

RIO THEATRE

"Code of the Lawless," Universal's latest action-packed outdoor saga, which records the recognition of Arizona as a territory of the United States, is currently at the Rio Theatre.

Victoria has played host to many conventions during the past year, but none more important than the "big little" convention in session at the present time at the Empress Hotel, where eight delegates of the National Council of Alpha Chi Omega Society have gathered for their annual business meeting.

This is the first visit to Victoria for seven of the delegates. The eighth, Mrs. Scott, is married to Matthew H. Scott, son of Mrs. G. E. Scott, Carberry Gardens, and although she and Mr. Scott live in California, they have a summer home at Shawngnan Lake which they visit every year. "It is through Mrs. Scott that we are here," says Mrs. H. Power, president of the council. "She has talked so much about your city we simply had to see it."

Mrs. D. Nordwall, the vice-president, traveled from New York to Seattle by plane, where she joined the others who came by train or car.

"We've enjoyed every minute of it, too," says Mrs. R. B. Rutledge of Oklahoma. "We like your climate and we love your flowers. You can be sure we are coming back again."

Meetings opened in Victoria last Friday and will continue until after July 1.

Daughter Of Pioneer Family Married Today At Colwood

A wedding of wide interest took place this afternoon in St. John's Church, Colwood, when a member of one of Victoria's pioneer families, Jill Nicola Humphreys, second daughter of Maj. Selden Humphreys of Cheltenham, England, and the late Mrs. Humphreys, was married to William Hendry Dalziel, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Dalziel, 70 George Road.

The bride, a granddaughter of the late Hon. James Dunsmuir, former Lieutenant-Governor and Premier of British Columbia, and Mrs. Dunsmuir of Hatley Park, was escorted down the aisle by her brother, James Selden Humphreys. Miss Judy Humphreys, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and their cousin, Miss Betty Dunsmuir, and Miss Ruth Tomlinson were bridesmaids. Another cousin, little Dola Mitchell, was flower girl.

A model gown of old ivory velvet styled with a long-lined tight-fitting bodice, shirred waistline and the seamless shoulder forming a sweetheart neckline, was worn by the lovely bride. The graceful skirt extended into a court train, misted with lengths of heidiroom Brussels veiling, which was caught at each temple with stephanotis. The bride's bouquet was composed of yellow roses and stephanotis, carried in a shower effect.

Arrangements have been made to place a container in the Royal Dairy where members of Florence Nightingale Chapter, I.O. D.E. may leave donations for food parcels for England during the next week.

Colorful Ceremonies To Mark Naval Cadets Graduation

Friends and relatives from all parts of Canada are en route to Victoria this week to attend the graduation ceremonies for cadets of the Royal Canadian Naval College on Wednesday, July 3.

The ceremony, which will take place on the parade ground below the historic Dunsmuir Castle at Hatley Park, is one of the most eagerly anticipated events of Victoria's summer season. Later, tea will be served on the terrace overlooking the Straits of Juan de Fuca, and in the evening a ball for the cadets and their young friends will climax the day's excitement.

Among those especially invited to attend the graduating ceremonies with Capt. Wallace B. Creery, C.B.E., R.C.N., commanding officer at the college, will be Rear-Admiral V. G. Brodeur, C.B., R.C.N., and Mrs. Brodeur; Mrs. W. B. Creery, Mrs. W. McC. Hutchison, Mrs. W. M. Ogle, Mrs.

ATTENDANTS IN YELLOW

Models of melon-yellow georgette over taffeta, fashioned on long-waisted lines, similar to the bride's, were worn by the three senior attendants. Their crownless picture hats were handmade of the georgette and taffeta, edged with mohair and trimmed with flowers shading from the melon-yellow to chartreuse green. They carried arm bouquets of Kokomo carnations and white sweet peas.

The little flower girl wore a Kate Greenaway frock of the same melon-yellow material with shirred poke-bonnet en suite and carried a colonial bouquet. Groomsman was Alfred Heaslip and ushering were James Brown and John Rawlinson.

Rev. G. H. Greenhaigh performed the ceremony and Edgus Holloway was at the organ. "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden," was sung as a congregational hymn.

A reception followed, at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Dola Cavendish, "Dolarus," Belmont Road, Colwood, where Carew Martin proposed the bride's health.

Leaving for a motor trip to California, the bride chose a grey suit with pink blouse and grey accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Dalziel will reside in Victoria.

Teen-Age Girls' Camp

A teen-age camp at Sunshine Campsite will be sponsored by the Inter-Denominational Girls' Work Board from Aug. 12 to 22 for all C.G.I.T. Junior W.A. and Sunday School girls from the ages of 12 to 17. This camp will be well staffed with leaders, a registered nurse and camp mother, and will be under the direction of Mrs. F. A. Goodwin. There will be Bible study, handicraft, swimming, games, sing-songs, campfires, fun and fellowship. Further particulars may be obtained from Mrs. Helen Simpson, E 1648.

Food Parcel Donations

Arrangements have been made to place a container in the Royal Dairy where members of Florence Nightingale Chapter, I.O. D.E. may leave donations for food parcels for England during the next week.

The gifts were concealed in a basket decorated in pink and white. Guests were: Mesdames J. Fox, D. Holmes, H. R. McDonald, F. St. Pierre, T. Taylor, A. Treloar, R. Smith, E. Pollock, Misses Mary Smith and Peggy McDonald.

Complimenting two popular Oak Bay sub-debs, Miss Pat Fleming and Miss Beryl Blandy, prior to their formal party at the Yacht Club this evening, Miss Kathryn Murphy will entertain at a dinner party at her home on Topp Avenue. Other guests will be Misses Evelyn Usher, Nancy Fleming, Messrs. Gordon Nickells, Dick Lipsey, Rod Fraser, Maurice Murphy, Gerry Karren of Pen-ticton and Murray Martindale of Vancouver.

Miss Dorothy Alice Pound, whose marriage will take place in July, was honored when Mrs. J. H. Coutu, Mrs. L. W. Carron and Mrs. H. Allison entertained with a miscellaneous shower at the home of the latter, 2818 Rose Street. The guests included Mesdames P. Wiler, A. Rule, Rouché, S. Allison, C. McCloskey, Misses Mary Milne, Elsie Rinae, Romona Althouse, Joyce Goodrow, Stella Christie, Louise Lobake, Ethel Kay, Kay Warga, Gloria and Arlene Allison.

On Sunday, June 10, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Cavin, formerly of Victoria, was christened at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Riverton, New Jersey, receiving the names Elizabeth Ellen. The godparents were Miss Mary Cavin and Mr. Bernard Cavin of Victoria, aunt and uncle of the baby, for whom Mrs. Margaret Eichner and Mr. Lawrence Bradshaw acted as proxy.

Mrs. J. E. Naylor, 1303 Gladstone Avenue was hostess Wednesday afternoon with a miscellaneous shower in honor of her niece, Miss Eunice Hewitt, a July bride-elect. The gifts were presented in an army kit bag decorated in blue and gold, the groom-elect's regimental colors. During the afternoon musical selections were given with Mrs. N. Bertucci at the piano. Mrs. George Mayar assisted the hostess in serving refreshments. Other guests were Mesdames H. S. Hewitt, P. McIlmoyl, N. Post, J. Martindale, E. Shields, Misses Jessie Burgess and Sally McDowell.

Victoria Man Married In Germany

Mr. and Mrs. George Stark, pictured as they came from the little German church where they were married. To the right in the background is Miss Diana Eppley, Lord Beaverbrook's niece, who was maid of honor and Col. Frank Norris, the best man.

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. William Stark, Moss Street, of the marriage at Bad Wildungen, Germany, of their eldest son, George, regional club supervisor with the American Red Cross, and Emily Valeska MacGregor, daughter of Graham B. MacGregor of Little Silver, N.J., who has been acting as area club supervisor in the same unit.

The burgomaster of the village performed the German civil marriage ceremony on Friday, May 17, at the Rathaus. The principals sat at a large table decorated with double lilac and there were two witnesses.

On Saturday, May 18, a religious ceremony was performed by the chaplain of the Red Cross unit in the little village church, decorated with summer flowers for the occasion by members of the unit. Dozens of little children, all washed and brushed and dressed in their best clothes, filled the tiny balcony. Lieut. Jim Eller escorted the bride to the altar to the strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March." Carrying out an old custom of the village, the bride and groom were driven away from the church after the ceremony in a hay cart filled with fresh hay and bouquets of purple and white lilac and drawn by two cows. Guests, villagers and children followed behind on foot and, as the party neared Red Cross headquarters, the leader of the cart completed the old custom by having the wagon collapse for luck.

A dinner and reception was held at headquarters and later the young couple left by plane for the Eder See, where the honeymoon was spent.

The bride is a graduate of Wellesley College and before joining the American Red Cross in 1944 was advertising manager of a large New Jersey firm. The bridegroom was born in Victoria and went to school here. Before the war he was in the tourist hotel business, being manager of resort hotels at Lake Tahoe in California and in Hollywood.

Mr. and Mrs. Stark expect to return to America in the fall and will visit in Victoria before going on to California, where they will make their home.

Gwendoline Berrill Wed At St. Mary's

In the presence of relatives and old friends, a quiet ceremony was performed by Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunn at St. Mary's Church Thursday evening at 9, uniting in marriage Gwendoline Muriel, only daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Ralph Berrill, 1434 Mitchell Street, and Kenneth Michell John, second son of Mrs. and the late George David John of Sidney, B.C.

The bride was given away by her uncle, W. A. Willis, in the absence of her father, and was attired in a becoming grey dress-maker suit with white accessories. She carried a white prayer book and an orchid corsage bouquet completed her ensemble. Mrs. John Bond was honorary matron of honor. The bridesmaid, Miss Phyllis John, sister of the groom, chose a rose suit with white accessories and corsage bouquet of gardenias. The best man was David John and ushers were John Bond and Clifford Bull, uncle of the groom. During the ceremony, the wedding music was rendered by St. Mary's choir. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, amid a profusion of summer flowers.

After a honeymoon trip to Vesuvius Bay, for which the bride donned a magenta coat over her wedding ensemble, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth John will reside in Oak Bay.

People Of Britain Need Food Parcels

"The peoples of Canada who are sending food parcels individually to England, come in for a special share of thanks and gratitude from the peoples of Britain," W. A. McAdam, British Columbia's Agent-General to London, told a special meeting of the Women's Canadian Club held in the Empress Hotel, Thursday afternoon.

He explained that with severe rationing throughout the war years and with the situation now becoming worse instead of better, there is no doubt the British housewife is hard put to maintain a decent table.

"You will understand therefore," he said, "how much the folk of Britain have appreciated the many parcels which the people of Canada and of British Columbia in particular, have sent to them."

Continuing, Mr. McAdam gave a brief sketch of how B.C. House carried on during the six years of war.

Mrs. A. J. Campbell presided and introduced the speaker. Other honored guests introduced were Mrs. McAdam, who worked with her husband at B.C. House, Mrs. Ena Anderson, who was in charge of the canteen and Mrs. Tyrell Godman, the receptionist in charge at the information desk. Mrs. Godman delighted the audience with a short talk on a morning at her desk in B.C. House.

Members Urged To Further Work

The need for vigorous continuation of work in the fall was impressed on members of the Women's Regional Advisory Committee of the W.P.T.B., by Mrs. Paul Smith, chairman, at a meeting Thursday evening in the Belmont building.

Mrs. Smith also explained the policy of the government in intending to provide special legislation for those products in need of price control, following the expiring of the war emergency legislation.

Mrs. A. J. Carmichael reported on addresses made by members, and Miss V. Wilson, convener of the radio committee, submitted a report. It was announced that all remake centres across Canada are closing for July and August, excepting the Victoria centre, which will be kept open, providing the attendance warrants it.

Married In White Thursday Evening

Margery Isobel, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dempster, 1935 Waterloo Road, exchanged nuptial vows before Rev. D. L. Gordon in the Church of Our Lord, Thursday evening, with Harold Henry Sampson, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Sampson, Salt Spring Island.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a bouffant gown of white, fashioned with lace bodice over satin tapering to points on the low waistline and the net skirt featuring two ruffles over the satin underskirt. A halo of net held her full-length embroidered veil and she carried a shower bouquet of pink roses, white carnations and gardenias. A single strand of pearls completed the bride's costume.

Mrs. Daphne Moore was matron of honor, wearing a pale pink crepe frock and carried pink sweet peas and white carnations, while the bridesmaid, Miss Phyllis Harwood in pale yellow crepe carried mauve sweet peas and pink carnations. Pale green organdy frocks with matching lace halos were worn by the junior bridesmaids, Marion Dempster and Lo-Kaye Smith. They carried colonial bouquets. W. Sampson was best man and ushers were Jack Dempster and Stanley Sampson.

A reception was held in the church hall, where mothers of the couple assisted in receiving. Toast to the bride was proposed by George Blackburn.

For a honeymoon up-island, the bride wore a pink frock with turquoise topcoat, black accessories and pink rosebud corsage bouquet. Mr. and Mrs. Sampson will reside on Salt Spring Island.

600,000 Canadians To Benefit From Budget Proposals

Higher Exemptions Start Jan. 1 On Income Taxes

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's budget—the first for a full peace-time year since the outbreak of war in 1939—offers tax relief to earning Canadians and to most business concerns.

Finance Minister Ilsley in a 25,000-word budget speech in the Commons Thursday night announced widespread income tax changes, including reductions which will relieve between 500,000 and 600,000 persons from income tax payments, and the lowering of business taxes.

It also was disclosed succession duties would be double and a new financial agreement is being offered to the provinces. Co-operatives, heretofore tax-exempt, will be subject to taxation, but their patronage dividends and similar payments will be allowed as tax deductions.

The major tax changes, however, will not become effective until Jan. 1, 1947, three months before the end of the current fiscal year. The current rates will continue until that time.

Mr. Ilsley, announcing the whole income tax structure will be redrafted and the scale of exemptions changed and interlocked with the payment of family allowances, said exemptions for single persons will be raised from $600 to $750 and from $1,200 to $1,500 for married persons.

A flat exemption of $300 will be granted for dependents over 16 years. At present the exemption works out to about $108 regardless of the age of the dependent. As for dependents under 16, they will be regarded from Jan. 1 as being in receipt of family allowances. For income tax purposes a flat reduction of $100 for each child will be allowed. Those not now in receipt of allowances for eligible children should apply for them to become effective from the first of the year.

OPTION FOR FISHERMEN

Farmers and fishermen will be given the option of averaging their incomes over a three-year period starting this year.

After Jan. 1, members of the armed forces will be treated for tax purposes on the same basis as civilians except those outside the western hemisphere who have not by that time come to the permanent force. The special exemptions granted merchant seamen also will be withdrawn at the same time.

Acting on the report of a Senate committee, the government will establish a board to hear appeals from tax assessments for 1946 and succeeding years. This will give the taxpayer a cheap and quicker method of obtaining action on appeals, which now have to be made by the Exchequer Court.

In the business field, corporation taxes will be reduced from 40 to 30 per cent and excess profits taxes from 20 to 15 per cent on income above 116 2/3 per cent of standard profits. The excess profits tax will be removed from partnerships and sole proprietorships.

Like co-operatives, mutual fire, casualty, and automobile insurance companies will be made subject to tax, with dividends being allowed as deductible from income.

The tax exemption privileges of credit unions will be continued. Only minor changes in excise taxes and duties and tariffs were announced, to become effective immediately.

SUCCESSION DUTIES

Mr. Ilsley's budget doubles succession duties levied by the Dominion, but provides that the estate may be credited with any provincial duties it has to pay up to 50 per cent.

For example, if an estate has to pay the Dominion $2,000 succession duties, and the province collected $1,000 then the estate would pay the province $1,000 and the Dominion $1,000.

If however, the provincial levy was $1,400, the estate still will have to pay the Dominion the $1,000. The change will affect estates where the death occurs after Jan. 1, 1947.

While there is no accurate information available here the view was expressed that most of the provinces already levy succession duties in excess of 50 per cent of what the new Dominion tax will be and therefore the net result will be higher succession duties, unless the provinces reduce their levies.

Under existing laws the estate has to pay both the Dominion and provincial tax in full.

The succession duty increase is tied up with the Dominion's proposals to the provinces which formed an important part of the budget speech.

If a province accepts the Dominion's offer, the amount of money the province collects from succession duties will be deducted from the annual payments of the Dominion to the province. If a province stays out of the Dominion's proposals then it will keep the succession duties it collects.

EXPECTS DEFICIT

Mr. Ilsley said he was budgeting for a deficit of $260,000,000, but might complete the year with a deficit of $300,000,000, compared with one of $1,736,000,000 for the 1945-46 fiscal year.

Expenditures were estimated at $2,769,349,815, a decrease of $1,992,000,000 from last year, and revenues at $2,510,000,000, a decrease of $446,000,000. The loss of revenue from the tax changes will amount to only approximately $36,000,000, because they do not come in force until the end of the year.

The loss from income tax will amount to about $25,000,000 for this year and $143,000,000 for a full year. Mr. Ilsley said the changes in income tax would mean reductions of from 50 to 75 per cent for some taxpayers.

Modified Plan Offered Provinces By Dominion

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Ilsley Thursday night announced revision of the federal proposals for new Dominion-Provincial agreements making participation on the part of each province optional.

The minister outlined the government's offer in his budget speech. The new proposal was for a five-year term—two years longer than had been proposed previously. He said the extension was made before the offer was optional and some provinces might delay acceptance.

Provinces accepting the proposal would agree on behalf of themselves and their municipalities to vacate the personal income tax field for the term of the agreement. In the corporation income tax field a uniform 5 per cent tax would be collected for the provinces by the Dominion.

In succession duties the provinces would have the choice of not levying taxes or of accepting a deduction in annual payments from the Dominion equivalent to the amount collected.

The Dominion's payments to the provinces would be in accordance with its offer made at the April-May conference, which failed to reach an agreement.

Provinces which did not enter into the plan would be free to impose personal income tax and taxpayers in those provinces would be able to offset the provincial tax against up to 5 per cent of the federal tax. There would be complete freedom to impose provincial corporation taxes, but they would not be deductible for Dominion tax purposes.

REVIEWS DISCUSSIONS

Mr. Ilsley reviewed the discussions between the Dominion and provinces in an effort to reach a mutually satisfactory basis of financial relations. He said that at the most recent meeting, April 29 to May 3, the majority of the provinces indicated willingness to accept the broad principles of the Dominion's proposals, but Ontario and Quebec were opposed.

"In my opinion the differences are far too great, not only between some provinces and the Dominion, but between some provinces and other provinces, to permit of reconciliation at an early date," he said. "I have had, therefore, to prepare this budget upon the assumption that no new general tax agreement could be made in the near future."

In the face of this situation reductions were being made, in accordance with the wartime tax agreements with the provinces, in the corporation and personal income taxes. These reductions left the way open for provinces which so desired to re-enter the personal income tax field.

"With these proposed reductions and with the payments to various provinces of certain hold-backs within 30 days of the termination of the present agreements, we shall have fully carried out all our obligations under these agreements," Mr. Ilsley said.

"Nevertheless we have all along been acutely conscious that the mere carrying out of the terms of these agreements would not enable us to remain indifferent to the problem of provincial finance and taxation. The agreements will all expire by next spring—three of them this fall—and without a new agreement several provinces are going to be but from 10 to 15 per cent for the majority."

The wartime provision under which a husband could claim married status despite the fact that his working wife was in receipt of more than $660 will be repealed at the end of this year.

Under the change in exemptions for dependents, exemptions for each child will be $100 plus whatever amount is received in allowances, which range from $5 to $8 a month for children up to their 16th birthday.

The exemptions will be deductible from income as in pre-war days. Mr. Ilsley hoped all provinces would see fit to accept his new financial and taxation agreement.

The agreeing provinces would be guaranteed minimum annual payments, including statutory subsidies, equal to $15 per capita based on the 1941 actual or 1942 estimated population. No province would receive less than 150 per cent of normal receipts under the wartime taxation agreements or less than $2,000,000.

The new agreement is entirely optional and any province not signing it will be able, on conclusion of the wartime agreement, to re-enter the income and corporation tax fields along with the Dominion.

event of an economic recession it would be the Dominion which would have to bear the brunt. The arrangement would go far to avoid overlapping. If agreements were finally concluded with all provinces the Dominion would be in a position to coordinate the taxes with the employment and economic policy as a whole.

Urging early action by those provinces which decided to enter the plan, Mr. Ilsley said that in the cases of the Maritime provinces it might be necessary to face with a difficult budget problem, and a chaotic tax situation is likely to arise. Lacking new agreements, the provinces would again become dependent on income and corporation taxes, which were "very unevenly divided" between the provinces. While the prewar situation in that regard was unsatisfactory, the postwar situation might prove intolerable.

Mr. Ilsley continued: "Financial pressure on the less-favored provinces will give rise to increasingly arbitrary and discriminatory taxation, will lead to interference with inter-provincial trade and to the extension of government ownership and operation of business merely in order to obtain additional provincial revenues, which of course would mean a loss of revenues to the Dominion."

"Even with all this it is difficult to see how some provinces could retain their solvency and any degree of financial autonomy. Moreover the arbitrary and discriminatory provincial taxes would come on top of Dominion taxes which, while substantially less than at present would still be considerably higher than before the war."

"The Dominion cannot stand aside and allow such a situation to develop. It would seriously impair the capacity of private enterprise to provide high and expanding employment. It would weaken and perhaps destroy our federal system."

Mr. Ilsley then turned to what he described as "our modified proposal . . . Devised in the light of the conference discussions." He said a letter was being mailed that night to the premier of each province outlining the new Dominion plan.

Should the provinces not enter into the new agreement it would be necessary for them to raise, by personal or corporation tax or some other form of tax, a total of $157,400,000 to provide the revenue estimated for 1947 under the agreement.

Mr. Ilsley gave a breakdown of that figure by provinces showing: Prince Edward Island, $1,200,000; Nova Scotia, $7,400,000; New Brunswick, $5,500,000; Quebec, $46,600,000; Ontario, $49,800,000; Manitoba, $9,500,000; Saskatchewan, $11,300,000; Alberta, $10,900,000; and British Columbia, $15,800,000.

The argument the proposed payments were not based on fiscal need was a failure to grasp the true facts of the situation. An essentially valid argument of the financially weaker provinces was their claim that the bulk of the wealth and income was centred in two or three large provinces, that most of the head offices of corporations doing business all over Canada were in Ontario and Quebec and those provinces benefitted.

"Now what the Dominion's proposal does is to provide a method whereby the three Maritime provinces and the three prairie provinces will be enabled to derive from these sources the same per capita revenue as Ontario and Quebec," he said. " . . . Surely this is going very far to meet the test of fiscal need."

If any province should still find itself in difficulties under normal conditions it would be due either to abnormal expenditures or failure to tap other sources of tax revenue. In the extend the wartime agreements which expire this year to allow time for the passage of legislation.

Failure to reach agreements with the provinces had made it necessary to restrict the proposals to financial arrangements and to postpone action on social measures which had been suggested. The Dominion stood ready, however, to proceed with these as soon as satisfactory agreements could be reached.

Debt Since 1938 Up $10,000,000,000

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's net debt increased almost $10,000,000,000 from 1938—the first year before the war—to March 31, 1946, the last in the six years of war, it was reported by Finance Minister Ilsley in his budget speech.

On the basis of Mr. Ilsley's figures for the last two fiscal years and on figures for previous years in the government's Canada Year Book, this is how the debt rose:

Year	Debt
1938	$ 3,101,667,570
1939	3,152,539,314
1940	3,271,239,647
1941	3,648,691,449
1942	4,045,221,161
1943	6,182,849,101
1944	8,740,084,893
1945	11,298,362,000
1946	13,034,065,000

Saving To Companies About $135,000,000 Under Plan

OTTAWA (CP)—Budget changes in the corporation income and excess profits taxes will reduce tax revenue from those sources by an estimated $135,000,000 in 1947, Finance Minister Ilsley, Thursday night, told the Commons.

Three major changes are proposed in business taxes:

1. The flat rate tax on corporate income reduced from 40 to 30 per cent, effective Jan. 1, 1947.

2. The 20 per cent rates on excess profits—which applies on income in excess of 116 2/3 per cent of standard profits—reduced to 15 per cent, effective Jan. 1, 1947.

3. Sole proprietorships and partnerships exempted from excess profits taxes, effective Jan. 1, 1947.

In addition some minor amendments were proposed. Tax credits for exploration expenses in petroleum, natural gas and mining industries were to be extended for another year. The exemption from excess profits tax given certain classes of mines was to be continued and exemption would also be granted for one-half of the 30 per cent rate of corporation income tax on the first three years' operations of such mines coming into production in the three-year period starting Jan. 1, 1947.

The special limitation on the deductibility of charitable donations in computing the taxable income of corporations would be rescinded for fiscal periods ending after June 30, 1947, and "certain adjustments" would be made in the taxation of investment trusts and non-resident-owned investment corporations.

Mr. Ilsley said he had hoped to be able to announce repeal of the Excess Profits Tax Act, which had been designed as a war measure.

"Experience, however, has shown that we are still living in highly abnormal times, the shadow of the war is still upon us, and, as I have shown, the financial burdens of the Dominion budget arising out of the war are of huge proportions," he said.

"After careful consideration, the government has reached the conclusion that the act should stay on the statute books for another year unless provision is made at the next session of Parliament for its earlier repeal."

The Canadian Congress of Labor's drive for higher wages and shorter working hours will be discussed at a joint rally of the Victoria Labor Council and the Boilermakers' Local No. 2 of the Shipyard General Workers' Federation, to be held at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium at 8 next Tuesday night.

A Family Affair

Mr. and Mrs. Mason C. Sands entered the Mortuary business together 34 years ago. Today their son and daughter are shareholders in the company, and are ably accepting their concurrent responsibilities.

From Horse and Buggy Days

Sands' have given dignified service. Originally the Mortuary was located at 1515 Quadra Street. In 1915 they moved to 1612 Quadra Street, and in 1933 built the present beautiful mortuary at 1803 Quadra Street. Within, there is a seating capacity for 350 and an exquisitely toned pipe organ.

The greatest reward we can receive in return for our efforts is the unsolicited thanks of those whom we have served. In our files are many such letters. We read them often—because we learn from them the importance of the "little things" which mean so much to those in grief.

Sands' are happy to welcome back three of our staff who have returned from active service.

Tribute To Pastor Of Chinese United

Congregation of the Chinese United Church Wednesday night honored Rev. and Mrs. Chow Ling and their children, Lila and George, as they prepared to leave for Vancouver, where Mr. Ling, who has served in Victoria 12 years, has received a new post.

Presentations of a wrist watch, pen and plaque were made to Mr. Ling by Wong Hong, Mrs. Eng-sung and Miss Dorothy Lee, and presentations of a purse, umbrella and roses to Mrs. Ling by Mrs. Song.

The evening's program opened with the unveiling of the honor roll, containing the names of 12 of the church's young people who had served overseas. F. Hall and Chow Sing unveiled the scroll and Rev. J. C. Jackson led the prayer and dedication.

Expressing appreciation of the leadership of Mr. Ling were: Chow Sing, Mr. Jackson, superintendent of Chinese Missions; Rev. M. F. Leung, pastor, Chinese Presbyterian Church; Miss Lottie McRae, Rev. W. R. Ashford, F. Hall and Wong Mah.

Council Of Legion Urges Government Keep Price Control

Restoration of milk subsidies and retention of price ceilings were urged on the federal government by the District Zone Council of the Canadian Legion Thursday night, after members had stated that young war-veterans would be most seriously affected by removal of price control.

"A higher price for milk hits the young veteran especially," said one member, "because he is the one who is raising a family. Similarly, it is the young veteran these days who is equipping a home, and removal of price ceilings would mean he would have to equip his home with a 60-cent dollar."

The zone council appointed a committee to interview the Oak Bay council regarding lacrosse facilities.

It urged allocation of Veterans' Land Act homes in the Victoria area on a rental basis, the rentals to be applied later to the purchase prices. Council members said there were 20 such homes completed in the area on which qualified veterans had paid up to $250 in deposits.

The members were told no answer had been received from Ottawa on the council's plan to take over the Tillicum Road army huts.

Ex-servicemen having complained there was no place available for convalescence in the province, the council proposed setting aside a wing of Hycroft on the mainland or a temporary allotment of a Gordon Head hut.

The council endorsed a resolution urging the Department of Veterans' Affairs to take over all service cemeteries.

SCHOLARSHIP AWARDED

The Sir Percy Lake Scholarship at Victoria College was awarded at the meeting to Hugh S. A. Gilmour, who plans to enter the chemical engineering course at the University of British Columbia.

Another resolution endorsed called for action to have "gross inequality" in pensions removed. The resolution, submitted by nursing sisters, claimed 17 high-ranking officers drew pensions totaling $116,471 annually.

The council deprecated the attitude of public and private employers in debarring men of middle age from entry into gainful occupations.

B.C. Canadian Clubs Elect New Officers

Regional Council of Canadian Clubs in B.C. Thursday elected Mrs. L. M. Dryden, Vancouver Women's Canadian Club, as chairman at their bi-annual convention at the Empress Hotel. F. J. Staghall, Victoria, was elected vice-chairman, and Col. W. T. Brown, Vancouver, second vice-chairman.

The new executive will choose an honorary secretary, a post which was held by Mr. Staghall until his election to new office.

Need for co-operation between the national association in Ottawa and the regional council was emphasized. The regional council supplies speakers to B.C. clubs when the national association is not able to do so.

During the day, the men delegates were guests of the Victoria Canadian Club at a joint luncheon meeting of the Canadian and Rotary Clubs and Victoria

Saanichton Trying Weed-Killing Tests

"Most people know that 2,4-D spells doom to many lawn weeds, but another use is being tried out for it at the Dominion Experimental Station, Saanichton," says R. M. Adamson, in charge of vegetable seed work there. "This is the control of garden weeds on areas sown to slow-germinating vegetables such as carrots, leeks, onions, parsnips, etc."

"Every gardener knows that many weeds become established while he is waiting for these vegetables to come up," says Mr. Adamson. "With this problem in mind, a special preliminary plot was planted at Saanichton this year to see if something could be done about it. In brief, the plan was to spray the vegetable plots with 2,4-D when the seeds were just coming through the ground and also when the plants were well up. In this way it was hoped to gain information on the effect of the hormone spray on vegetables as well as on weeds."

"While sufficient work has not yet been done at Saanichton to warrant any definite recommendations, some interesting facts have come to light. Certain vegetables, such as beets, carrots, dill, lettuce, peas, spinach and turnips are almost certainly killed or dwarfed by applications of 2,4-D when coming through the ground or two weeks later. Other vegetables, however, such as corn, leeks, onions and, to a lesser degree, parsnips and parsley are apparently not affected by the hormone when they are breaking through the ground. Present indications are that these last-mentioned vegetables are only slightly checked when they are sprayed with 2,4-D two weeks after they have come through the ground.

"Some weeds go out like a light, but unfortunately others are more persistent. Nevertheless, the indications are that this

STRANGE WORSHIP

"Voodoo in New Orleans" by Robert Taft (Macmillan Company.)

VOODOO has gone underground but it still lives among the negroes of New Orleans according to the author, a newsman of that city.

He has delved into New Orleans' murky social history to tell of voodoo queens, weird witch-women who brought the pagan worship of West Africa to Louisiana. He believes that because the negroes' inherent superstition voodoo still has a strong hold on the descendants of the slaves who were brought from Africa to Louisiana.

"Voodoo in New Orleans" will appeal to those with a bizarre taste in reading matter.

BRITAIN'S WARTIME PRESS

"They Never Failed" by Leonard Fletcher.

NEWSPAPER offices were destroyed or damaged, staffs were cut beyond the danger point and newspaper supplies were only 20 per cent of pre-war quantities but Britain's provincial press always came out on time.

"They Never Failed" is their story—an 80-page booklet written by Leonard Fletcher, public relations officer of the Newspaper Society. It is a record of achievement, persistence, difficulties overcome, and initiative.

Papers were printed within a few feet of unexploded bombs, under official orders to run the presses slowly to reduce vibration. Offices were wrecked and papers printed in other towns without the readers being told, because of wartime censorship.

Take a dollar bill out of your pocket and look at it. You have 35 cents of that dollar—or more—because of Canada's foreign trade. Without it, you would only have 65 cents, or less, instead of each dollar you now have. For at least one-third of Canada's national income is earned from Foreign Trade.

That is why it pays even to go short on goods we need now, to keep our customers in other countries happy... why it pays to put your best into any products you help to make or services you perform for export trade.

Your Trade Commissioners are stationed in 26 countries, and their job is to help Canadian firms sell our goods abroad... or buy goods we need from other countries. This Foreign Trade Service of the Department has head offices in Ottawa, where complete information is available to every Canadian business that buys or sells merchandise abroad.

But after all, their success depends largely on everybody doing his or her part to keep Canada's foreign customers satisfied in their dealings with us.

Sports American Loop Comes Mirror Up With Mound Stars

By PETE SALLAWAY

HORSE RACING returned to British Columbia today at Vancouver with the newly-organized B.C. Turf and Country Club staging its first meet at the Lansdowne strip. Last fall the province's latest promoters bought both Lansdowne and Brighouse parks and announced a new deal for the sport of kings in this area. To just what extent the new group will raise the tone of racing will be better known on completion of the meeting. Al Hardy, one of the best-known racing men in the Pacific Northwest, holds down the position of general manager and will also act as presiding steward. In other words, he will be the big boss of the organization. Hardy has gathered around him many of the old hands so well known to Vancouver and Victoria racing goers including Earle Lewis, Jack Short, Massie White, Clay Puett, Walter Georgehan and George Addison.

CONSIDERABLE WORK towards improving the accommodation for both the general public, horsemen and jockeys has been carried out at Lansdowne. However, these will play no part in improving the calibre of racing. Considerable criticism was heard in recent years over the Vancouver meetings and it will be interesting to see if the new organization can operate to the satisfaction of the man who bets his money. There will be no dearth of riders or horses for the Lansdowne meeting, something that is mighty important to make for good racing. During the war years a shortage of boys was a serious handicap to the promoters.

IN A CHAT with Muzz Patrick, the local athlete related a humorous incident he witnessed during his service with the United States army. It happened while he was acting as a director of athletics at a centre in Virginia. "I had a mighty good baseball team down there and one afternoon we were playing a game with the temperature hitting 120 in the shade and I'll tell you right now we weren't playing in any shade," Patrick said. "The pitcher on my club got himself a hit and believe it or not the bat boy ran out to first base and handed him his jacket and he put it on, while I sat in the dugout and groaned as the perspiration was running down my face like I was standing under a shower. Just goes to show you what ritual will do."

SUNDAY marks the opening of the fish derby season. Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association under energetic president Harry Woolston, has mapped out a summer of activity to rival the programs held in previous years. The anglers, sorely handicapped for several years owing to gas rationing, shortage of tackle etc., are moving back into the sports picture in a big way. Fishing is an important tourist attraction to this island, and the anglers are to be congratulated on their efforts to bring it to the fore. You can be

Leading Langford Racer, Lindskog, Killed In Crash

"SWEDEN" LINDSKOG

Rated as the finest racing car driver ever to appear at prewar Langford Speedway meets, Einar T. Lindskog, 29, better known to fans as "Swede," was fatally injured at Hollywood's Gilmore Stadium Thursday night when his midgester racer hit a rut in the track, crashed into a wall and turned over three times. He died in an ambulance en route to hospital.

Cause of death was reported by the Associated Press to be a ruptured heart. He also suffered a crushed chest, broken jaw and severed neck artery.

Swede was a regular visitor to Victoria from Seattle with his No. 1 major race car prior to the war. He never was beaten here. Many times he was started in the last position of a field of eight to 10 cars in the main events at Langford, and always he would be out in front at the end of the 20 laps.

He left his home in Seattle to try his hand at midgester racing in California around the beginning of the war. He became popular there also, as one of the "hottest" drivers on the speedways.

Two Cricket Games Billed Tomorrow
A pair of cricket games scheduled by the Victoria and District Cricket League tomorrow afternoon will bring together the leading Five C's and Albions at Beacon Hill, and Oak Bay, second place team, and Royal Canadian Navy at Windsor Park. Both games start at 2.30.

The C's are undefeated in four games.

Boxla Opener Outdoors Tonight

Victoria ardent of the rugged and fast sport of box lacrosse will be able to see their first action of the 1946 season tonight at Stevenson Memorial Park with Royal Canadian Navy and sure of one thing. There will be so many boats on Saanich Inlet Sunday it will be tough to get a line in the water.

Known for years as a pitchers' paradise, the National League appears certain to yield that title to the American loop this season. While the senior circuit is in danger of failing to produce a single 20-game winner for the first time since 1931 and only the second time in its 70-year history, the Harbridge circuit may boost four pitchers in the select 25-game winner class.

Each of the present quartette, Hal Newhouse of Detroit Tigers; Bob Feller, Cleveland Indians; Dave Ferriss, Boston Red Sox, and Spud Chandler, New York Yankees, has passed the 10-victory mark with less than half the schedule completed.

The top winner in the National League is Johnny Sain of the Boston Braves, who has notched eight victories. In the only two games played yesterday, the pace-setting Brooklyn Dodgers increased their National League lead to 3½ games by downing the Boston Braves, 3 to 1, and Chicago Cubs nosed out the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6 to 5.

The Dodgers scored two runs in the seventh inning to break a 1-1 deadlock and sew up the contest.

The Chicago Cubs came from behind to beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, with pinch-hitter Bill Nicholson driving in the tying and winning runs with a bases-loaded single in the ninth inning.

Top U.S. Fighters Going To Britain

LONDON (CP)—Promoter Jack Solomons arrived home from the United States and the Louis-Conn bout Thursday to announce that four top-flight United States boxers—Gus Lesnevich, Sam Mauriello, Joe Baksi and Arturo Godoy—would be matched to fight British ringmen in London this fall and winter.

Solomons also held forth the promise of a world heavyweight championship bout between Joe Louis and Bruce Woodcock, British titleholder, "in London, probably next year." He added that "there is a good chance of Billy Conn coming to England before Christmas."

Boxla Opener Outdoors Tonight

Jokers, senior squads battling. Play will open at 7. After a long fight to get hold of the main building at the Wilfords Park without success the Lacrosse Association has been forced to present its gutted-stick game outdoors.

Game will be handled by well-known local players Sid Anderson and Arnold Ferguson. The Joker club, decked out in black uniforms, includes many players familiar to fans of the sport. An old hand at the game, Tom Carney is the Joker's coach and says he will field a powerful unit with lots of weight.

His lineup follows: Fred Pellet, Ray Douglas, Norm Carter, Harry Harding, Ray Thomas, Don McLennan, Tom Laverly, "Baldy" Cumming, Andy O'charik, Ernie Ball, Andy Brown, Vic Sage and Ernie Gawley. The bluejacket manager is CPO. Wardell. He will throw a team into the fight composed of personnel who are not familiar to Victoria's light. His team will be faint, "but with plenty of speed, spirit and staying power."

Local Fastball Nines Meet Seattle

Central Park's southeast corner diamond will be the layout where Victoria fastball fans will be able to see one of Seattle's best senior men's nines in battle with the three local clubs tomorrow and Sunday.

Visitors go by the name of Davidson Gas Clippers and they will start action against Wally Smith's Canadian Legion tomorrow afternoon at 2.30. The evening meeting, at 6.30, will see second place Hoyce Brown opposing the Sound City ads. Sunday's lone fixture at 2 brings the league-leading Crows up against the visitors.

GAMES LAST NIGHT
A close, tough fight took place Thursday night in the senior B men's A section in which Doug Minnis pitched K.V.'s to a 2 to 0 victory over Dominion Meat Market. Minnis allowed but a trio of hits, while his teammates got nine.

In the same department a six-run attack in the first frame enabled Esquimalt Meat Market, loop leaders, to pull out with an 8 to 4 triumph over Brentwood Aces. High scoring was the order in the junior boys' tussle between Page Cleaners and Esquimalt Crusaders, in which the cleaning establishment nine pushed three runners over the sacks in the ninth to emerge with a 14 to 13 victory. Black and Whites, in junior company, managed by Ernie Field, beat Sooke 17 to 5 in an exhibition game.

'Y' Tracksters In Police Meet At Vancouver Monday

The Victoria Flying "Y" track and field team, undergoing conditioning at the High School grounds for many weeks, will get its first competitive action July 1 when a strong squad of boys and girls will invade Vancouver for the annual police meet at Hastings Park.

Cliff Salmon, a miler who has covered the distance recently in around 4.43 and a traction, will be one of the chief local hopes. Rod Fisher and Dave Clark will be other "Y" milers, and there is a possibility of Bill Troupe wearing Victoria colors in the event.

Highly-rated Bill Dale, just back from Woodbury, and Neil Craig will compete in the half mile. "Spike" Dalzell and Jimmy Wright will be in the junior sprints and may try their abilities in the jumps. Bob Sam is another junior sprinter entered. Don Dalzell and Harry Mitchell are slated for the senior 100 and 200 yards races. Senior Don Wilson has signed for the pole vault and high jumps.

Bill Thompson, recently returned from R.C.A.F. duty overseas, will be on hand and will be the only "Y" entry in the weights department, discuss, hammer throw and shot put. Victoria girl, Elaine Silburn, holder of the western Canada broad jump record, may also attend. Pat Fleming, holder of the same record in the high jump, will not participate.

Cosch Archie McKinnon has left for the east with his three-boy team of junior swimmers to take part in the national title meet in Hamilton, and will not be on hand to coach his track and field squad. Bruce Humber, who has been giving valuable aid in molding the current crop of runners, will likely take over.

Chess Star To Oppose Victoria's Finest

Scene of the yearly fun-fest which, in addition to the golfing attraction includes a "midway" offering enjoyment for all members of the family, will be the east side green sward of Central Junior High School grounds. Program opens Wednesday night at 7, continues at the same time on the following two nights and winds up Saturday. The Saturday entertainment menu starts at 2 in the afternoon, the day's highlight being the hole-in-one finals.

The Queen Alexandra Solarium is the beneficiary from this annual Gyro effort and members of the service club are going "all out" to make this the biggest financial take in the six-year history of the carnival.

Break In 6th Marks Athletics 6-1 Win

Getting one of those breaks that are nice to take but bitter to swallow Victoria Athletics continued their victory march in Western International League baseball, at the expense of Vancouver, by blasting the visitors 6 to 1 last night. The game attracted well over 2,000 fans who witnessed a real pitching battle until the blow-up came in the sixth inning.

Here's what happened. With two out and two on by virtue of a walk and single Dunn worked himself free passage to first to load the bags. Paulson, making his first appearance behind the plate for the Athletics, lofted a fly to left field for what looked like an easy out, but outfielder Mullens lost the ball in the lights and before he could recover and return the ball three runs had crossed the plate and Paulson was on second. It went for a two-base knock. Jensen followed with a single, Murphy doubled and Steele singled to give Victoria an additional three runs. That was the ball game.

Yakima	24	27	593
Vancouver	18	46	582
Victoria	18	46	581

For five innings Jensen and Anderson, Vancouver's number one flinger, engaged in a tight mound battle. The former had given two hits, a double and a single by Kretschmar while Anderson held the A's hitless for four frames, Jensen picking up a line single in the fifth. Then the roof caved in. A's collected a total of six hits off Anderson while Jensen was charged with five. The latter struck out six and walked seven while Jensen's record was four and eight.

Vancouver's only run came in the eighth. Clarkson tripled down the first base line, and trotted home when second baseman Steele's relay from the outfield struck the runner as he hit the dirt going out third. Kretschmar and Mullens followed with hits but shortstop Dunn pulled a neat play on Estes' ground smash to force Mullens at second.

Clubs will battle again tonight, starting at 8, with Tony Ferrara to pitch for Victoria and Alex Palica for Vancouver. Two games are scheduled tomorrow, starting at 2.30 and 8.

Ace Local Marksmen In B.C. Title Shoot

A half dozen ranking scattergun shots, Ernie Todd, Johnny Wenger, Russell B. Horton, Wallace McMillan, Ernie Hazenfratz and Ted Bailey, are among the Victoria Gun Club marksmen who will participate in the Vancouver Gun Club's B.C. championship trap shoot in the mainland city tomorrow and Monday, Roger Monteith, local club secretary, reported today.

This is the first shoot scheduled by the Vancouver club since the war. The last time this shoot was held the team of Todd, Wenger, Horton, McMillan and Hazenfratz won the team title with some sensational shooting, failing to "kill" only four birds out of 125. Vancouver club shooters will be over in strength for the international shoot on July 13 and 14 at the grounds of the Victoria Gun Club.

Summer Bible Schools

Daily vacation Bible schools will be conducted at Knox Presbyterian Church, Stanley Avenue, commencing July 2 at 9:30, for girls and boys between five and 15.

The school at Knox will continue until July 12, when closing exercises will be held. The school superintendent will be Mrs. W.

Sanders, assisted by Miss Margaret Boyd, student deaconess, Mrs. J. A. Kennedy and Rev. J. A. Munro. Classes will include Bible study, chorus singing, correlated handwork.

Eskimo school will commence July 29 and continue till Aug. 9 with closing exercises Aug. 9 at 7. Boys and girls in the community are invited to enroll.

Sterndale Bennett Drama Adjudicator

The International Drama Festival to be produced at the Royal Victoria Theatre Aug. 5-10 will be an unique milestone in the annals of Canadian drama.

Sponsored by no less than 26 local organizations and with the active and enthusiastic support of the City Council, it will provide an entire week of the finest dramatic entertainment ever staged in the city. The committee has secured the services of Sterndale Bennett of Toronto as chief adjudicator, and it is hoped that Nigel Bruce or Donald Crisp will be able to attend as special guest adjudicator.

The festival will be opened by the Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia. A particularly strong and interesting entry list has been received, including plays from the following groups: Portland Civic Theatre, Vancouver Little Theatre, Victoria Little Theatre, the Theatre Players, Calgary; Quesset Little Theatre, Esquimalt Players, Centennial Players, Vagabond Players, Chi-nese Y Centre, Hans Christian Anderson Society, Sons of Norway, Golden Dragon Guild, Dutch Group, Vancouver; St. Barnabas Players and Dave Junior Group, Vancouver.

Boards Of Trade Return Officers

Officers of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island, headed by J. V. Johnson, president, of Victoria, were re-elected Thursday at the end of the boards' annual convention.

Other officers re-elected were: Norman King, Port Alberni, vice-president, and Charles Ironside, Nanaimo, secretary-treasurer.

At its final session, the boards approved a resolution from the Nanaimo board asking that in future, highway bridges on Vancouver Island be built wide enough to accommodate increased traffic.

The boards also approved sending a committee to the provincial government to ask that Buttle's Lake be made accessible as soon as possible and that the provincial government ask the Canadian Pacific Railway for a grant of 200 acres to be developed on Forbidden Plateau.

Delegates voted to hold their next annual meeting in Port Alberni, and recommended Courtenay as the site for their 1948 meeting.

The DOCTOR Says:

GERMAN MEASLES ENDANGERS UNBORN BABIES

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

All young children are susceptible German measles (rubella), and young adults may acquire the infection if they missed it in childhood. In the last few years it has been learned that it may cause serious complications in the infant in the early part of pregnancy.

When expectant mothers acquire German measles during the first two months of pregnancy, their babies may be affected. Children born under such circumstances may have cataracts of the lens of the eye, imperfect development of the heart, deafness and mental deficiency.

BABY DIRECTLY INFECTED

The probable explanation for this unusual complication is an infection of the developing baby, as the same virus affects tissues in a different way, depending on the stage of development.

Usually no special treatment is recommended for German measles, but in the case of an exposed pregnant woman, it is advisable to give gammaglobulin as a preventive measure.

German measles, while similar in some respects to measles, is caused by a separate virus. Infection does not develop in susceptible persons until two or three weeks after exposure.

German measles may start without any warning signs and run a short uncomplicated course. But some patients first have sore throat.

The disease is usually spread by direct contact. Cases are reported from January to June, with most infections in May.

Apparently, children who have had measles are more liable to develop German measles. One attack usually confers immunity for life.

RASH FADES QUICKLY

The rash of German measles resembles those of regular measles and scarlet fever. It starts as small, round, or oval spots on the face or neck, around the mouth, back of the ears, on the scalp, or the skin of the body. The rash quickly spreads over the entire body, and in day or two it begins to fade.

German measles is distinguished from measles by the absence of inflammation in the mouth.

Patients with German measles should be put to bed for a day or so, and fed liberally. Their eyes should be protected from excessive glare.

The patient's temperature may reach 101 degrees F., but this seldom lasts more than two or three days.

Swollen glands are commonly present. They enlarge to the size of a pea, and are hard and tender. They never break down and discharge pus, as often happens in other infections.

Superannuation Plan For Jubilee Staff

Mrs. E. Sheppard, G. H.

Stevens, Dennis Hagar and A. C. Lindsay were elected to the Royal Jubilee Hospital board of directors at the 56th annual meeting of the institution Thursday.

Directors appointed were F. E. Winslow, E. W. McMullen, Judge

H. H. Shandley, Ald H. M. Diggon, W. P. D. Pemberton, Harry P. Hodges, C. S. Henley, Councillor P. Molr of Oak Bay; Coun-cillor J. L. Hobbs, Saanich; Reeve Thomas Hadfield, Esqui-malt. Appointed to represent the College of Physicians and Sur-geons of B.C. were Dr. J. H.

Moore, Dr. T. M. Jones, Dr. A. E. Nash.

Reviewing changes at the hospital during 1946 Mr. Stevens, board of directors chairman, said that a superannuation scheme had been adopted under which all active members of the hospital staff would participate. He expected the scheme would build up an esprit de corps valuable in an institution such as the Jubilee and that it would also cut down the large turnover of employees.

Other changes outlined by Mr. Stevens included adoption of an eight-hour day for nurses, four weeks' holiday a year for student nurses and a 44-hour week for lay employees, the latter effective next week.

Dr. T. W. Walker, superintendent, told the meeting Wednesday had seen a record number of patients with 420 at the Jubilee that day. Noting that June and September were regarded as the slackest months of the year, Dr. Walker said this figure indicated the growing needs of the community.

Resolution of the Victoria City Council with regard to taxi fares to the airfield at Patricia Bay will be brought to the attention of the Minister of Reconstruction, who is also the minister responsible for Trans-Canada Airlines, R. W. Mayhew, M.P., wrote the city clerk in a letter received today. He stated that the minister would not have jurisdiction over C.P.A., so far as their operation was concerned, and advised that the resolution be presented

Hunger Makes Hitlers

- ▶ The people of Europe are hungry.
- ▶ Extreme hunger is one thing a man cannot get away from. Every minute, day and night, it stays with him, dominates his talk, distorts his mind, haunts his dreams. Inevitably he begins to despise his way of life. Driven to extremes of thought and action, he will be ready to follow any leader promising "a new world order."
- ▶ Hunger makes Hitlers.
- ▶ We promised that with victory would come food. We have just renewed that pledge. This promise is a message of hope—hope for a better tomorrow. It is our strongest weapon to combat despair. By delivering this food we will, with peaceful means, deny tomorrow's dictators. We will preserve humanity for peace.
- ▶ As a witness to scenes of starvation in Europe, I can assure you that for many our help is already very late. As a manufacturer of food, I can tell you that the greatest reserve from which starvation can be halted is in the United States.
- ▶ What can each of us do about it?
- ▶ Follow the food-saving suggestions of the President's Famine Emergency Committee below. You may think your saving is small but your saving multiplied by millions of others will help make the United States the granary of democracy, the leader among the nations who are working through the UNITED NATIONS ORGANIZATION.
- ▶ Write your Congressman and ask him to use every means at his disposal to speed shipments of food to Europe.
- ▶ The future belongs to those who prove themselves the true friends of mankind.

John F. Kennedy
President, H. J. Heinz Company

Here is what you can do to save vitally needed food:

- Never waste bread. Make three loaves do the work of five.
- Serve potatoes more often. Try potato pancakes, potato soup and potato salad.
- Substitute fruits and other desserts for cakes and pastry.
- Serve oatmeal often. One serving equals five slices of bread in food value.
- Serve open-face sandwiches and pies.
- Use less wheat cereals and other wheat products.
- Save and re-use fats and oils.
- Serve fewer fried foods.
- Salvage all fats that can't be re-used and turn them in to your butcher or grocer.
- Use fewer oil dressings—more boiled dressings for salads.

M. F. Hunter, city clerk: "It looks as if it is a fairly reasonable reduction, but I would rather see the cut postponed until we are assured that reductions would be progressive. I would not like to see any fluctuations, such as reducing the tax now and then raising it again later on."

He felt people would not seek any reduction in income tax at all if they felt by paying the present taxes they could insure full employment for all.

Ald. F. G. Mulliner: "It's a step in the right direction. The government has so much to do this year, the reduction announced was about all we could expect. Reduction of the excess profits tax should prove an incentive to business across the country."

Helps Business And Individual Victorians' Opinion Of Budget

An improved budget from the standpoint of stimulating business and giving relief to low income groups was the opinion of a cross-section of Victorians today when asked about Finance Minister Isley's announcement Thursday concerning reductions in income, corporation and excess profits taxes.

One businessman considered relief in the low income groups was not sufficient. Store clerks and office workers were unanimous in stressing their salaries had not kept pace with increased costs of living.

Opinions follow:

F. E. Winslow, Royal Trust manager: "It looks to me as if it would stimulate business and cause companies to expand. Income tax changes will also give some relief to individuals. It is hard to say more than this at the moment because we have only a sketchy outline."

E. G. MacMinn, Royal Bank manager: "It's a move in the right direction. Relief to corporations and particularly partnerships should be beneficial and may help the stock market. I am rather disappointed, however, in the changes for individuals."

F. M. McGregor, Vancouver Island manager of the Mutual Life: "I think it's excellent. It will give a more optimistic outlook to those who have been taxed so heavily during the last several years. Removing the excess profits tax is good business."

Nigel Tomlin, managing director of the B.C. Cement: "I think it is a substantial improvement over last year's budget. It is a step in the right direction."

W. I. Borman, investment dealer: "It is very fair as far as individuals are concerned, particularly married people. There seems to be some doubt as to the position of corporations with regard to excess profits taxes."

Miss Anne Adamson, secretary: "There has not been much time to study all aspects of the new income taxation. Naturally the first reaction of any worker whose salary is in the low brackets is one of satisfaction, since the cost of living has risen out of all proportion to the increase of our salaries. Mr. Isley and his advisors are probably the best able to judge whether the income tax reductions will be of real benefit to Canada as a whole. Indirect taxation is liable to offset any benefits derived from a reduction of the income tax."

Mrs. F. J. Laughlin, secretary: "I'm very pleased with the reduction in the income tax. The only thing I regret is that it doesn't start immediately. I could use the extra money right now."

M. F. Hunter, city clerk: "It looks as if it is a fairly reasonable reduction, but I would rather see the cut postponed until we are assured that reductions would be progressive. I would not like to see any fluctuations, such as reducing the tax now and then raising it again later on."

He felt people would not seek any reduction in income tax at all if they felt by paying the present taxes they could insure full employment for all.

Ald. F. G. Mulliner: "It's a step in the right direction. The government has so much to do this year, the reduction announced was about all we could expect. Reduction of the excess profits tax should prove an incentive to business across the country."

prietor: "Taxation of co-operatives is a step in the right direction. Co-operative stores are in direct competition with every retail store."

W. (Gunner) Matthews, city fire department mechanic: "Let's wait until we see how the new taxation set-up works. At first you might think you're in clover only to find out later that the picture is not as bright as you thought it was."

Constable Brooke Douglas, city police: "It doesn't start until 1947. We want relief now. We may all be dead by next January."

Stg. John Howe, city police: "Mr. Isley has left an opening for the provincial government to re-enter the income tax field and I don't think it will be long before that step is taken."

Fireman J. Luske: "Taxation of incomes is a fair form of taxation, but I don't think much of the reductions in taxes on excess profits."

Constable Stanley Holmes, city police: "They haven't cut the taxes enough. The reduction does not counteract the higher cost of living."

Frank Paulding, secretary of the Y.M.C.A.: "I think there should have been a general reduction in personal tax in addition to raising the exemptions." He favored a 20 per cent cut, or a cut similar to the 16 per cent last year.

Paton, Brown To Face Trial In Higher Court

George Paton and Charles Brown both were committed for trial in higher court at the conclusion of their preliminary hearing in city police court today on a charge of breaking and entering the Crystal Spring Soda Water Company's plant at 1244 Richardson Street with intent to commit theft early in the morning of May 30.

City police told of a running gun fight with Paton and also the apprehending of Brown after he had been struck in the right arm by a bullet from Detective Angus Munro's gun.

A posse of police including Munro, Detectives Louis Callon, Fearon Woodburn, William Richards and Constable William Knowles, each of whom testified, watched from across the street and saw the two men enter the grounds of the soda water company. Before doing so they had passed the hiding policemen and were identified by Callon, Munro and Knowles.

After the accused entered a lane beside the soda water company plant, a crash of glass was heard shortly afterwards by the policemen who closed in.

Callon said he saw Paton inside the office of the company. Munro said Brown was standing outside. Paton, according to testimony, ran out of the building and escaped over a fence after firing shots in the direction of the policemen. Brown was wounded while he was running away, Munro said.

Callon, under cross examination by J. B. Cleghorn, K.C., counsel for Paton, said Paton had been arrested at his (Paton's) brother's house at 2639 Shelbourne Street early in the afternoon of the 30th, after he had phoned police, giving himself up.

A meeting was held by the arena committee at the City Hall this afternoon with the local architects to discuss the arena project.

The B.C. Power Commission has awarded the contract for the erection of steel towers and high-power transmission lines to link the commission's Campbell River development with Nanaimo and Port Alberni.

The work will be done for $457,000 by Hume & Rumble Ltd. of Vancouver. S. R. Weston, commission chairman, announced, following a meeting of the commission Thursday morning.

The work will include erection of 80-foot steel towers and erection of steel structures for substations at Campbell River, Nanaimo and Port Alberni. It also includes the stringing of the transmission lines in the 90-mile link from Campbell River to Nanaimo and the cut-off link from Dunsuir to Alberni, a distance of 14 miles.

The development is scheduled to be in production April 30 next, turning out 50,000 kilowatt power, 10,000 for the pulp mill at Port Alberni, under construction for Bloedel, Stewart and Welch Ltd., and the remainder for Nanaimo and other up-island centres.

James Ross, charged with breaking and entering Israel's second-hand store, was remanded in city police court today until next Friday, when it was found that he required immediate hospital treatment for blood poisoning in his arm.

May Name Hamilton To Supervise Entire Arena Project

A recommendation will be made to the next meeting of the City Council that C. T. Hamilton, construction engineer of Vancouver, who has been employed to design and supervise the barrel roof construction of Victoria's Memorial Arena, be retained as supervisor of the entire arena project.

Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, chairman of the arena committee, said today, following a morning meeting in City Hall.

A general discussion of the arena project took place with Mayor Percy George, Ald. Edward Williams, chairman of the finance committee, Ald. J. A. Worthington and Mr. Hamilton, among those in attendance.

"We wish to co-ordinate everything under one head and feel by so doing, construction will go ahead much faster and to the better advantage of the city," Ald. Dewar said.

He added the committee felt that a considerable saving in money would be effected by such co-ordination of effort.

Up to the present, local architects have been employed to draw plans for the interior of the arena, including refrigeration and heating plants. Their duties, however, did not include supervision of their particular jobs, Ald. Dewar said.

A meeting was held by the arena committee at the City Hall this afternoon with the local architects to discuss the arena project.

Arson Case Sent To Higher Court

Magistrate Hall decline jurisdiction on an arson charge which came before him in city police court today and committed a woman for trial before a jury in higher court.

Mrs. Katherine Gordon, the accused, was charged with setting fire to her home at 1033 Pemberton Road on June 17. Her counsel, Joseph McKenna, asked that the case be dealt with in police court. After hearing evidence of the prosecution, Magistrate Hall said he felt disposed, in view of the seriousness of the charge, to send the case to higher court.

"This charge carries a penalty of 15 years imprisonment," he said.

Deputy Fire Chief Robert Taylor said he responded to two alarms to the home of the accused on June 17. First was at 2:09 in the afternoon and the second at 4:26. On the first alarm firemen found rubbish piled on top and around the furnace in the basement and the basement was smoldering although more severe. The ceiling in the basement had burned nearly through in one place.

The deputy chief said he asked

Joe Mardent was in love with Jenny Floyd, daughter of Mrs. Floyd who owned the boarding house where Joe lived. Ada Grigson, 19-year-old daughter of the owner of the huge shipyards where Joe was employed as a draftsman, fell madly in love with him. Joe, who had been poor all his life, married Ada although he loved Jenny. He was well rewarded for Mr. Grigson offered him a partnership in his shipbuilding business. But fate had much in store for him. Ada died. The shipyards went broke. Now his only desire in life was to marry the girl he loved, Jenny. But Jenny is now engaged to a doctor.

Final Canning Sugar Due Next Thursday

Second instalment of sugar for canning, amounting to five pounds, falls due next Thursday and will be the final issue of canning sugar for this year, A. B. Food, foods ration officer with the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, said today.

"The allotment this year was the same as in 1945, 14 pounds, and the first five pounds became valid on May 2, when coupons SS to S12 became available. On July 4, coupons S17 and S21 inclusive will be valid," Mr. Food said.

"These coupons are not exclusively for the use of canning but may be used for other household purposes. It is not necessary to take all the sugar allotment at once as there are no expiry dates on sugar coupons without ample notice being given."

Salvation Army Posts

Maj. and Mrs. John Nelson and Maj. and Mrs. Denis Hammond took over their new duties as heads of the Victoria and Victoria West citadels of the Salvation Army, respectively, Thursday. Maj. and Mrs. Nelson succeeded Maj. and Mrs. Allan McInnes, who left for a New Westminster post. Maj. and Mrs. Hammond succeeded Maj. M. Young and Adjutant R. Hillier at the citadel.

Launch Tuna Boat Built At Langford

The 42-foot tuna boat Albacore, built at Langford by Nelson Hinde and C. F. Holmgren, who came here from Manitoba six months ago, has been launched at Esquimalt and is expected to be fishing tuna in two weeks.

The vessel has a V-hull and an 11-foot beam. It is powered by a General Motors marine engine and was designed by Walter Atkins for tuna and salmon trolling. The owners are now completing rigging of the vessel.

Conferences with principals of elementary and high schools within the Greater Victoria school district are being held this week and next by J. F. K. English, municipal inspector of schools.

ABOUT

INSIDE DOPE ON "BLACK LINE"

Recently your J-M reporter visited the Johns-Manville mine, mill and factory at Asbestos, P.Q., and got the inside story on a "black line." Officially these materials are called Roof Coatings and Putties. They're used for fixing leaking roofs, caulking windows and doors and for scores of other weatherproofing jobs!

Roof Coatings and Putties are made from special waterproof asphalt and in many cases contain the "magic mineral"—asbestos. They're processed in giant mixers which look something like large-scale meat grinders. Making the "black line" is no white collar job!

These versatile materials provide weatherproofing for roofs, door and window frames, skylights, etc. For free folder on J-M Coatings and Putties see your J-M dealer or write Johns-Manville, Toronto, Montreal, Winnipeg or Vancouver.

TOM THE TAXI MAN

but...
CANADA'S TOURIST BUSINESS IS YOUR BUSINESS TOO...

Here's what we're telling OUR GOOD NEIGHBOURS

Your Canadian Travel Bureau, formed to protect and promote your interests in Canada's tourist industry, is running advertising in leading U.S. newspapers reminding American readers of the beauty and diversity of Canada's tourist attractions. At the same time it is tactfully reminding them that in view of travel and accommodation difficulties this summer, they will be wise to make reservations ahead.

TOURIST MONEY spreads around. It flows into every community, creating extra business, added income. Even if you never see a tourist you benefit from his spending just as surely as Tom the taxi man.

Let's protect our valuable tourist business. This year of all years, we must make our American neighbours especially welcome so that they will take back with them pleasant memories of Canada's courtesy, kindness, real neighbourliness.

In so doing we'll be building up a priceless backlog of goodwill. We'll be helping to make the tourist industry still bigger and more prosperous in the years to come.

Give Them a friendly CANADIAN welcome!
